CLUB BUSINESS AND ANNOUNCEMENTS: President Paula Williams

Bob Rupp read a prayer attributed to Shakespeare.

The Brewers Bazaar Meeting is Wednesday March 13, 5:45 at Lift Bridge. We are still looking for a chairman for the day of the event. It is a challenging a fun leadership position. Talk to Paula and Jeff about it, they have both done it.

March is National Literacy Month, make a donation to a library, read to a child or others who are unable to read and finally thank the teachers of the world that you can read.

Thanks to Steve who will run next week's meeting for me. Also Steve gave a report on the Presidential training he received. Steve had a good time, traveled with Craig to get there. Very rewarding.

It is time to order your new Stillwater Rotary Shirts. Every member is asked (required?) to order a shirt so that we can be well represented at events. The club will pay the cost of the shirt. Simply go to the website below, register an account if you have not done so previously, order your size. You can order more or other colors if you wish in addition. The official shirt you order will be paid for by the club and any extra you order will be invoiced to you by our club. There is a time limit of April 5 so please order as soon as you can. NEXT WEEK'S PROGRAM:

Ray Marshall, Chair of Arcola Mills Historical Foundation - Guest of John Lennes

GETTING TO KNOW OUR MEMBERS:

No one this week.

PROGRAM:

Kristine Peterson gave a report on a Students' Service-Learning Project for MN Food Shelf that she was running each year as a teacher at the Mounds Park Academy. It is a program to engage kids from 5-6 yrs. old in a service project and in the process teach them math using coins, presidential history by the faces coins, planning for the shopping, budgeting, etc… It was fascinating to watch how she was able to teach so much while having these young people go to Kowolski's with a list, shop for their things, separate them into geometric shapes etc. etc.
What a great way to teach.

Joke of the Week

9 Months Later...

> Jack decided to go skiing with his buddy, Jerry.
> So they loaded up Jack's minivan and headed north.
> After driving for a few hours, they got caught in a terrible blizzard.
> They pulled into a nearby farm and asked the attractive lady who answered the door if they could spend the night.
> 'I realize it?s terrible weather out there and I have this huge house all to myself, but I'm recently widowed,' she explained. 'I'm afraid the neighbors will talk if I let you stay in my house.'
> 'Don't worry,' Jack said. 'We'll be happy to sleep in the barn, and if the weather breaks, we'll be gone at first light. 'The lady agreed, and the two men found their way to the barn and settled in for the night.
> Come morning, the weather had cleared, and they got on their way.
> They enjoyed a great weekend of skiing.
> But about nine months later, Jack got an unexpected letter from an attorney.
> It took him a few minutes to figure it out, but he finally determined that it was from the attorney of that attractive widow he had met on the ski weekend.
> He dropped in on his friend Jerry and asked, ?Jerry, do you remember that good-looking widow from the farm we stayed at on our ski holiday up north about 9 months ago?'
> 'Yes, I do.' said Jerry
> 'Did you, errr, happen to get up in the middle of the night, go up to the house and pay her a visit?'
> 'Well, um, yes!, Jerry said, a little embarrassed about being found out, 'I have to admit that I did.'
> 'And did you happen to give her my name instead of telling her your name?'
> Jerry's face turned beet red and he said, 'Yeah, look, I'm sorry, buddy, I'm afraid I did.' 'Why do you ask?'
> 'She just died and left me everything.'
> And you thought the ending would be different, didn?t you?... You know you smiled...now keep that smile for the rest of the day!
