LAST MEETING: 7/20/11

By John Chamberlin

"Hey, is it HOT ENOUGH FOR YA?" was the theme of the day. At least it seemed that way. The meeting was called to order and Raymond Amelio provided the meeting's invocation. As we continue to delve into more complicated songs, Kelli Robbins and Andy Dlinn, accompanied by Chaya Sarah Dlinn on the piano, tried to teach the old dogs new tricks by singing, "If I Had A Hammer." I have recorded this on my iPhone for submission to America's Got Talent for a formal evaluation!

President Andy thanked those who helped at the latest New Citizen's Reception, Cherie Moshier, Phyllis Comer, Ed Nazareth and Michael Marmo. He also mentioned that help is needed on the Registrar/Cashier Committee. The 50/50 Committee also needs a Chair (that doesn't mean something to sit on).

Secretary Margaret DeLeeuw took to the podium. She followed through with her promise to mention something from the RI Rotarian Magazine each week. She discussed the article regarding the meeting of the word, altruism. Is it developed in each person through society or is it genetic?

The upcoming Chuck Tanner Major League Baseball Manager of the Year Award Banquet is set for November 19th at the David Lawrence Convention Center. The big news is that, Bob Nutting, Pittsburgh Pirates President has agreed to be the Honorary Chairperson of the event. This year, there will be a toast to Chuck Tanner vs. a roast. Additionally, there will be dancing immediately following the presentations.

Karl Ohrman, Past Club President, then addressed the group regarding being involved with the 2011 Tribune Review Pittsburgh Business Ethics Awards. This event has a number of key sponsors. Our club is encouraged to nominate businesses for the awards. Additionally, we will be involved with the event which should provide access to a number of companies and individuals for potential membership.

Kelli Robbins then introduced our speaker for the day, Michael Capozzoli, Owner of CAPture Production Studios in Bridgeville, PA. Mr. Capozzoli presented samples of his company's work and samples of how some video production is done.

Included in his presentation were samples of a music video he produce for a local group, a pilot series featuring Dr. Audrey Guskey as well as a home video that he assembled of his 3 children over the past four and a half years – watching them grow.

At the end, Michael mentioned to everyone that most of the production that we had seen was done in an approximately 8x10 foot studio area.

As time rolled on, the bell rang. President Andy led everyone in the Four-way Test and we all departed to the wonderfully warm weather. "Is it hot enough for ya?"
