Brent: District Committee came out with new phrase:

"Give Polio the Finger" <http://givepoliothefinger.com/>

WHAT DOES GIVE POLIO THE FINGER MEAN? Purple ink on the pinkie finger tells both volunteers and the child's neighborhood that one more person is safe from the horror of polio. It is more than a way to identify who has been immunized. It is a symbol of defiance against a crippling disease and a symbol of hope for a polio free world. No one is safe until all are safe. Please give generously so we can Give Polio the Finger. End Polio Now.
