

Erik DuMont from the Potomac Conservancy will speak on Thursday, December 5.

Erik DuMont joined the Potomac Conservancy in June of 2013. As the Clean Water Organizer, it will be Erik's job to go out into local communities in northern Virginia and build a strong network of support for policies that are protective of the Potomac River watershed. Prior to joining the Potomac Conservancy, Erik came from a long background of environmental grassroots advocacy with such diverse organizations as Chesapeake Climate Action Network, the Pew Environment Group, National Environmental Trust, the Alaska Wilderness League, Citizens Campaign for the Environment in New York, and Ohio Citizen Action in his home state of Ohio where he started as a door-to-door canvasser.

Erik has a BS in Ecology and Sustainable Development from Juniata College in Pennsylvania, and a Master's in Public Management from the University of Maryland. Erik lives in the Capitol Hill neighborhood of Washington DC with his wife, son, and one cat. When not working, Erik enjoys traveling near and far, and games of all kinds.

The Four-Way Test

“Of the things we think say or do:

- 1) Is it the TRUTH?
- 2) Is it FAIR to all concerned?
- 3) Will it build GOODWILL and BETTER FRIENDSHIPS?
- 4) Will it be BENEFICIAL to all concerned?”

December is Rotary Family Month

By working together, our Rotary family can ensure the expansion of service to our community.

Quote of the Day

“Coming together is a beginning; keeping together is progress; working together is success.”

- Henry Ford
