Classification Talks Scheduled: Jeff Perry and Chris Little to Speak

Jeff Perry (in his own words). I'm a financial advisor who works in Leesburg but lives in Sterling and is an avid although mediocre golfer. I mentor a 14 year old at risk teen on the weekends which has become a big part of my life. I have a French mother and American father and I've spent most of my life in Northern VA although I lived in Africa for six years. I played division II college basketball in West Virginia and I attend Mclean Bible Church every Sunday (well almost).

Christopher J. Little is the President and CEO of Duct Doctor USA of Northern Virginia and Hampton Roads. Christopher has successfully bootstrapped the two service sector franchise operations into profitable, recognized industry leaders. Prior to launching Duct Doctor USA in 2004, he spent over nine years in various financial management and analyst roles at the MITRE Corporation, CACI International, Computer Sciences Corporation, Dyncorp International, Northrop Grumman IT and Unisys. Additionally, Christopher has served six years as a Non-Commissioned Officer (NCO) with the 29th Light Infantry Division. While serving, he volunteered for duty with the 82nd Airborne Division and was stationed in the Middle East. He wakes up thankful, everyday, to be married to his lovely wife, Dominique. He has one daughter, Isabela, who completes their family. They are active members of Saint Luke's Serbian Orthodox Church in Mclean, Virginia. Christopher holds both a Bachelor of Science in Economics from Radford University and a Master of Business Administration from Virginia Tech.
