Former NSW Premier Jack Lang taught Paul Keating that the first rule of politics when dealing with MP's and the public is to be aware of the analogy with the race track where the horse called Self Interest will usually be trying much harder than the rest of the field. Cynical? probably. In reality more common than most of us may think.

Incoming Club President, Jim Stephen's message is if our Club and Rotary in general is to attract and retain new members, an appeal has to be made to the self-interest of the younger generation, many of whom are looking for contact with their elders who succeeded in their careers and are willing to pass on their knowledge and perhaps offer to be their mentor. Within our Club there is a wealth of experience and knowledge gained in the real world which could be very appealing to Gen X and Y who for all their outward show of knowing everything are not as cocksure as they seem. The trick is to get young people in the door, show them "what's in it for me" and encourage/steer them to tap into the body of knowledge and experience within the Club.

Jim would like to see every member bring a potential member every week that falls into this category and appeals to everyone to make a concerted effort to personally welcome them and introduce themselves. First impressions do count!

In PP Stephen Hinton's absence in Africa the normal changeover dinner was put on hold. Once Stephen returns this will be revisited to recognise Stephen's excellent two years as Club President. Also Pres Jim and PP Stephen will allocate members to the various committees.

Incoming President's are allowed to choose two projects in their year. Jim has selected the establishment of several outdoor exercise stations around Bunbury and "Jim's Travel Odyssey" as the two he wants to achieve in 2014-15.

Appointments to the Board and to special projects were announced. Treasurer: Glen Fraser, Secretary: Glenys McDonald, Youth -Neil Sinclair, Public Relations- David Hamilton, Guest Speakers- Rod Downe and Morris Johnston, Vocational- Mike Honeybell, Rotary Foundation-John Gray, Rotary International- Clive Pearson, Children's Fair-Sandro Agrizzi, Club Protection Officer-Dean Freeman, Sergeant: Len Andel (who may be missing on a/c of his firm winning a major contract in Albany. Dawn Naylor may take on the role from January. Club Bulletin, Stephen Hinton. Administrator incl Social events- Turk Ellis.

President Jim said there are road works planned for Dunstan St, Bunbury later this year. The Club has the opportunity to earn a few $'s by acting as traffic controllers and possibly selling BBQ's sausages and rolls to motorists caught in the traffic queues. More on this later.

International: Director Clive Pearson:

Clive outlined the "Jim's Odyssey" concept. It is based on President Jim's view that because members have all been working tirelessly on Club projects for many years; it would be good idea to take time out for a bit of enjoyable R & R. The plan at this stage is for a Mediterranean cruise, possibly on our own vessel, plus several on land visits. Participants would be responsible for getting there and back by organising their own travel arrangements. Some may wish to extend their visit after the joint exercise. Nothing has been set in stone as yet; Clive distributed a flyer to get people thinking. One thought was a walk along the Cinque Terre on the W coast of Italy. Clive wants plenty of ideas, thoughts, questions and comments on the overall proposal. So give it some thought and give Clive a ring or send him an e-mail so he firm up a Mk 1 proposal.
