Presidents Report: Pres Neil welcomed everyone, wished all happy New Year and then proceeded to set a record for the shortest Rotary meeting seen for a long time. Turk Ellis reminded us that the dinner meeting scheduled for Wed, Jan 26th is cancelled as this coincides with Australian Day when members will be celebrating the big day by eating rabbit, goanna, damper and other true blue Australian favourites that come on the menu once a year. (Although patriotic I draw the line at eating mutton bird which I think is like fried chicken dipped in diesel)

Sailing trial: The idea of meeting at the Koombana Bay Sailing Club last Wednesday was for the opportunity to experience what sailing is all about. Nobody counted on it raining all day which deterred most skippers, so hold on to that ambition to sail around the world for another year when you can have another try. A few boats were seen through the rain showers but that was as close as anyone got to a boat and members consoled themselves, by seeking refuge at the bar while waiting for the BBQ to begin. Cedric had the BBQ under complete control and we were spoilt with magnificent steaks and a host of equally magnificent salads. Some of us were taken with one salad in particular which, after several samples were eaten, there was consensus it contained lentils, beetroot and coriander. If this was one of yours could we get the recipe please?

There is a certain something about sailing which once tasted can be as addictive as nicotine. This is what John Masefield had to say about the subject in his poem, which I'm sure everyone of you who went to school in the 50's can still recite from memory.

I must go down to the seas again, to the lonely sea and the sky,
And all I ask is a tall ship and a star to steer her by,
And the wheel's kick and the wind's song and the white sail's shaking,
And a grey mist on the sea's face, and a grey dawn breaking.

I must go down to the seas again, for the call of the running tide
Is a wild call and a clear call that may not be denied;
And all I ask is a windy day with the white clouds flying,
And the flung spray and the blown spume, and the sea-gulls crying.

I must go down to the seas again, to the vagrant gypsy life,
To the gull's way and the whale's way, where the wind's like a whetted knife;
And all I ask is a merry yarn from a laughing fellow-rover,
And quiet sleep and a sweet dream when the long trick's over.
