Please send submissions to: THETOOLBOX7190@GMAIL.COM Deadline: 15th of the month

Notes From the District Governor:

With the end of August around the corner - we look ahead to the fall; school starts, schedules change, routines are more, well, routine, and we have a list of events that will keep this district moving and shaking like crazy.

First up: The Rotary Rumble Motorcycle Ride - Sunday September 9th, 10:00 am

Join fellow Rotarians, friends and family on a ride through the Adirondacks and Vermont. We will meet at the Mill on Round Lake at 10 am, kickstands up a 10:30 and return to the mill around 4:00 pm or so. We just found out that EB Jebb will be playing at the Mill, but we have a reserved section for Rotarian's registered for the ride if you want to stick around afterwards for a snack for only $10 per person. I will need a head count to give to the Mill, so please register with Frank Pecoraro frankp@pecorarocompanies.com or Richard Ferro rferro@prublake.com.

*NEW - Flash Mob on the Capital! Friday October 5th, practice 5:30, Dance at 6:30 - NYS Museum, NYS Plaza *First 100 registered will get a free t-shirt (Thanks to Saratoga Rotary Corporate Member, Saratoga Hospital)

THIS is going to be exciting!

The theme is "Celebrate Movement" in an effort to increase awareness of our goal to eradicate Polio from the planet. We will be part of the First Friday celebration and the MoHu Arts Festival. The goal is to have as many people as we can wearing matching t-shirts, enter in from the Museum to the Plaza and start a flash mob of dance! Dance studios from around the capital region are being invited to join us, as well as anyone else who cares to join in the fun. This is open to the public to join, and I'd love to see a TON of Rotarians joining in the fun! T-Shirts will be sold online. T-shirts are required to join in the fun - the bigger the dance crowd the more impact we make, the more we spread our message!

Scotia Rotarian, Mike Massey is chairing the event. He has teamed up with Eba dance studio in Albany to make it all happen. You can reach Mike at michael@youradheremediagroup.com.

RLI - Sienna College - Saturday October 20th.

An outstanding program designed to give participants a better understanding of how Rotary works and how we accomplish all the wonderful deeds we do. I suggest New members attend as an "orientation" (although we are planning one of those too). New and Old (meaning experienced) members alike will gain great insights into the Foundation, running a club, PR, and all sorts of good things. Plus, it's a great day to reconnect with fellow Rotarians and learn about each other and what your clubs are involved with. You can register online here: <http://www.rlinea.com/Registration.htm> or contact PDG Blase Mercoglan BMERCOGLAN@AOL.COM for more information.

Foundation Festival - November 8th, Hall of Springs, Saratoga Springs

Our District will be hosting none other than the Chairman of The Rotary Foundation, and Past RI President Wilf Wilkenson at our event. This is a very exciting opportunity for our members to meet and talk with one of RI's most highly regarded individuals. Event Chair, PDG Harriet Nobel has put together a stellar team of people to make this a memorable event. This will be a fun and festive evening of entertainment, delicious food, silent auction and celebration!

With so much going on - we are in the process of building a web site to handle the district events. This will simplify registration with online ticket ordering and payments. Keep an eye out for 7190Events.com coming your way soon.

September is New Generations Month - I ask that you reach out to New Gen Chair Dan Graves, Youth Exchange Chair Suzanna Bernd, Interact Chair Eric Hamilton and Roteract Chair Ian Williams to find out how your club can get more involved in youth programs. Nick George is looking for more RYLA students. If you have not sponsored a RYLA Student yet, you don't know what you are missing out on. Our District's Youth Leadership Program is truly unique and has helped High School Juniors improve leadership skills, team work, and build a greater understanding of both themselves and those around them. Contact Nick at NickGeorge@RoadRunner.com to sponsor a student.

Membership Chair Christine Harvey Berry has outlined a membership plan that is both aggressive and achievable. If each club recruited one member a month, our district would increase by 400 members. It sounds easy doesn't it? One member per club per month. How can your club achieve that goal? Reach out to Christine is you'd like to chat about membership building ideas: christine.harveyberry@gmail.com

I'm out of breath just thinking about all that is going on. I hope that you are as excited about all the opportunities we have ahead of us as I am.

Until Next Month

Yours in Service,
District Governor Melissa

Live Elvis Memorabilia Auction at Rotary Concert

Attention Elvis fans!

Mechanicville Rotary announces an exciting new feature to their 3rd annual 'Elvis Is Back' Benefit Concert on Wednesday, September 19th.

Rotary community partner, Saratoga Auction and Consignment, will conduct a live auction of special Elvis memorabilia during the evening to benefit the club's Coats for Kids project providing new, warm winter coats for kids from area schools and other Rotary humanitarian and educational activities.

Keith Grayson, owner and auctioneer, approached the club with the idea and it was very well received. "It's great to partner with Rotary. A live auction is entertaining and Elvis fans love the souvenirs and mementos from those rock 'n roll days."

"We are very excited to partner with Keith and Saratoga Auction," said club president Matthew Hosek. "It will add another element of fun and surprise to the evening. The items for the auction will be on display prior to the live auction scheduled during intermission. Appetizers by the Ugly Rooster, a cash beer and wine bar and limited reserved tables are also new this year. Anyone wishing to donate Elvis memorabilia can reach me at 664-3200."

The 'Elvis Is Back' Benefit Concert starring popular Elvis impersonator, Donny 'Elvis' Romines, will be held at the Arts Center on the Hudson, 2 South Main St. in Mechanicville with the doors opening a 6 PM and the show starting at 7 PM. Tickets are $10 per person ($12 day of show) and may be ordered through the club's website www.mechanicvillerotary.org or Matthew.Hosek@BSNB.com or by calling the Arts Center at 852-8870.

Rotary Archives and the Global History Fellowship

From Paul Harris' typewriter to a 4 foot wide panora from the 1926 RI Convention, the Rotary Archives is filled with one-of-a-kind artifacts, photographs and documents.

Generous contributions from clubs and individuals have created a valuable collection that chronicles more than 100 years of Service Above Self.

Looking for a list of past club presidents or a copy of your charter documents? Chances are the archives have the information.

The Archives also keeps documentation of the RI Board decisions and publications produced by Rotary International, including The Rotarian and convention proceedings.

Think you have a Rotary treasure hiding in your attic or in your club's archives? Contact Rotary History and Archives at history@rotary.org. Early convention materials, papers from past RI presidents and many other items help tell Rotary's story.*

Another resource for historical documentation and information is the Rotary Global History Fellowship www.rghf.org. Fellowships are areas of interest supported and run by Rotarians and approved by RI. From the Motorcycle Fellowship to the Yachting Fellowship there are over 40 such fellowships under the Rotary umbrella.

Hope Faith Love Peace Justice

Dear Banda Bola Sports Foundation Supporters,

I celebrated Thanksgiving 2011 a bit differently than usual. Instead of rejoicing in the many blessings God has given me by sharing a bountiful meal with my immediate family, I dined on SIMA/CHIGAWO AND USIPA/FISH with my extended family in the sweltering heat of Malawi, Africa.

I had returned to my boyhood home of Chituka Village to continue work on Phase One of the afterschool sports and education mentoring program administered through my Banda Bola Sports Foundation (BBSF). Four months later I returned to the U.S. knowing with certainty I was fulfilling my life's calling, but also realizing it was just the beginning of the journey.

The trip was an interesting and rewarding experience. I enjoyed my stay in Chituka Village, catching up with my relatives and old friends, some of whom I have not seen since leaving in 1964. My early morning walks and meditation time reintroduced me to my roots. I met people going to farm before the heat of the morning sun. I see women and young girls getting water from the few working wells. I see children going to school the way I did all those years ago. . .

My experiences during my stay in Chituka are detailed in this newsletter. I share them with you so you'll have a sense of how your support is helping a small, underprivileged village envision a better tomorrow. I hope, too, you will see that there is still much work to be done.

I have been transformed by my experiences with the people of Chituka. Together we can transform the futures for the children of Chituka and surrounding villages. It all boils down to hope, faith, love, peace and justice.

God Bless.

Kalekeni Banda

Transforming a Village One Step at a Time

During his most recent trip to Malawi, Africa, Kalekeni Banda did some of his most important networking at 3 a.m. It was during these early morning jaunts that he reintroduced himself to the people of a village he left more than 45 years ago. He crossed paths with men going to work the fields before the heat of day and women lugging containers of water from the few working wells. He chatted with children walking the many miles between home and school, encouraging them to commit themselves to education.

Word quickly spread that a member of the Banda clan had returned to Chituka Village, where the family name is synonymous with caring and compassion. Recognition and reputation earned trust and respect, and before long residents were willing to hear Banda's vision for putting the village on the road to recovery. "I expected to come home and find things had improved. Instead, they seem to have gotten worse," Coach Banda said. "There is so much work to do here. We must give these people hope and a vision for a better tomorrow, and that begins through education of those who will be part of that future: the children." Banda returned to Chituka Village in November 2011 with a 20-foot container filled with school supplies and sporting equipment. In the months that followed, he distributed pens, pencils, notebooks, reading books, shoes and soccer balls to some 700 school children. The items distributed were donations he had collected over the previous few years and shipping the items from a warehouse in Scotia, N.Y., was made possible by the Jack Brewer Foundation. It is the personal connection Banda has with Chituka that makes this experience unique. This isn't just another good-hearted soul trying to change the world. Instead it is the story of a son returning home and continuing to build on the work his deceased parents started many years ago. It's the tale of a man discovering his destiny and committing himself to selflessly serving the needs of the people in his birthplace. His vision: make education a priority so today's youth can use that knowledge to break the cycle of poverty they were born into. If that sounds easy enough consider:

- A typical classroom contains 85 children; some contain over 100.
- Those 85 or more young people are taught by a single teacher.
- Furnishings amount to little more than benches and picnic-style tables.
- With young people packed in shoulder-to-shoulder and so little table space, students must take notes on paper supported only by their legs.
- Temperatures in the poorly ventilated rooms typically reach temperatures of 120 degrees or more, hardly a conducive learning environment.
- The government mandates school children wear uniforms, an expense that prevents families from buying other clothing and necessities.
- It has been several years since any Chituka Village children have passed the exams necessary to matriculate into the equivalent of a U.S. high school.

Making the necessary progress will require more than resources, according to Banda. First and foremost, it will require paradigm shift. "We need to change the vocabulary and culture of the people of Chituka Village," he said. "Young and old alike need to believe change is possible. If the adults don't dream of a better tomorrow, how are the children to dream?" It also will require improved infrastructure. The overcrowding in schools needs to be addressed, and a community center where adults and youth alike could receive education and training would accelerate the village's evolution. Library facilities of some sort are also a must. While Chituka has the natural and human resources necessary to make the bricks needed for these buildings, what's required is the architectural and engineering knowledge to create safe, functional buildings. Volunteers to provide training of teachers, coaches and other service providers are also needed. "Returning to Chituka was an interesting and rewarding experience," Banda said. "I am convinced that with the help and support of compassionate people here in the U.S., positive change can be made here. I feel transformed and want to help transform the children of this village."

Bringing hope, faith, love, peace and justice to the children of Chituka Village, Malawi Empowering Girls to Be More than Teen Moms

Ken Banda knows firsthand how difficult it is for women to get the respect they deserve. Coach Banda had a stellar college coaching career, taking his soccer teams to four national final fours. His coaching resume is one to be envied. Yet you won't find Banda's name mentioned in the same breath as John Wooden, Bear Bryant or Duke soccer coach John Rennie, inducted this year into the college soccer hall of fame. The reason? Banda coached women's soccer. "Because I coached girls, my teams' accomplishments were not considered as impressive by my counterparts," he remembers of those days. "We were basically second-class citizens." Those days seem so long ago here. It's been over 20 years since the U.S. women's national team captured America's heart by winning the FIFA World Cup. A few years later, many of the same women helped the U.S. win Olympic gold. Off the field, women in America have many, if not all, the same opportunities as men.

Because of Title Nine, girls and women are participating in all levels of sports. In Malawi, however, women have not achieved the same opportunities.

Polio National Immunization Days

Have you ever wondered how to go about participating in a National Immunization Day (NID)?

POLIO UPDATE: The latest statistics are available at <http://www.polioeradication.org>

EXPERIENCED RESOURCE: An extremely useful resource is: PDG Ann Lee Hussey Chair, Polio Survivors Rotarian Action Group Cell 603-767-6134 Annlee001@yahoo.com, <http://rotarypoliosurvivors.wordpress.com>. Ann Lee, a Polio Survivor, has been on dozens of Polio Immunization Days

MEETING OTHERS WHO ARE GOING:

Regina Rodriguez-Martin at Regina.Rodriguez-Martin@rotary.org is the main point of contact for Rotarians interested in traveling on NIDs. As RI doesn't coordinate any of these trips centrally, Regina works to connect those inquiring with those Rotarians who are already planning visits. Helen Penna, at Helen_Penna@yahoo.com, or 518-858-1333, can put you in contact with several Rotarians from New England who are planning to attend NIDs in Pakistan.

Plus, Helen is planning to volunteer for an NID this Rotary year and she would love for you to join her. Helen took the next photo of Polio drops being administered. Some of you may recognize PDG Shehzad Ahmed who is looking on. Shehzad is from the Rotary Club of Lahore Garrison, Glenville Rotary's sister club. If you ever decide to visit Pakistan, Shehzad will very likely be your host, or will arrange for your host. Shehzad can be reached at rotary@promark.com.

Another Rotarian from our District 7190 who has participated in an NID is Anne Cargile, at annec@nycap.rr.com, or 518-275-7796.

NID COUNTRIES & DATES: The immunization dates are set by the governments, and WHO tracks these dates online at:

http://apps.who.int/immunization_monitoring/en/globalsummary/siacalendar/padvancedsia.cfm. The list of countries and dates is available as follows:

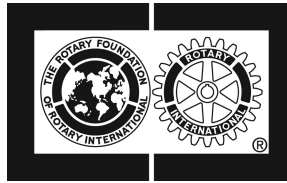

1. Visit web site <http://www.polioeradication.org>
2. Select the INFECTED COUNTRIES tab. This will bring you to a World Health Organization web site.
3. Select the "Interactive Calendar" link under the heading "National Immunization Day calendar"
4. This will open the following options page. Select POLIO from the disease list. The calendar excerpt that follows was created by selecting World, by not selecting a country, by selecting July 2012 to start the calendar, rolling year to end the calendar and "All" for the Supplementary Immunization Activities.

KEY:

- NID stands for "National Immunization Day"
- SNID stands for a smaller scale "Supplementary National Immunization Day"
- ?? means the date is tentative

SHARING YOUR STORY: A Rotary International contact who can help to provide resources to help you and your group share your Rotary polio eradication story (including sample press release, backgrounder, etc.) is Petina Dixon-Jenkins, at Petina.Dixon-Jenkins@rotary.org.
