

Rattler report for October 27, 2017 — contributed by Karen

Does anyone have a Remembrance Day story they'd like to share at our breakfast meeting on Nov. 10? It could be about the two World Wars, the 1950s' Korean conflict, Vietnam, Afghanistan, or any other major battleground where heroism and tragedy walked hand-in-hand. Let speaker-organizer Garth know if you have personal or family memories that would lend poignancy to Remembrance 2017.

New member Marilyn Morgan gave her ID talk, with dad Jack listening carefully! Guests this week were Vikki Pritchard of the HSM Driving School and Scott Hyde of Fraser Valley Beltone in Murrayville.

REALLY NEED
ANOTHER PHOTO OF CHARLIE FOX?)

Brian is taking orders for Aldergrove Rotary hats, vests and shirts and will bring samples for us to see and select.

Charlie's son, Chris, will be our guest speaker on Dec. 1. Chris works in the wind-power industry in the U.S. and will talk about how green technology might shape B.C.'s future, along with such topics as the controversial Site C Dam project. He would welcome questions in advance so he can best prepare detailed information. Send them to Charlie (just don't call him Windy)!

Happy and Sad: Pauline is struggling with Windows 10. Carlo said the Vancouver Whitecaps game was good, but the Lions game was not so good. Glenn was grateful for our beautiful surroundings and this time of year. Gord's internet connection had been down but eventually Telus had come to fix it. Colin's stepfather sadly passed away last week. Bruce and Doug W. reminisced about Joe Beier's time in the fire department. Doug's wife was celebrating her 70th birthday on Oct. 28. Brian mentioned that the Langley Rotary Club Foundation handed out $83,000 last year. Bev encouraged a good turnout for the Otter Co-op's Ladies Night on Nov. 2. Paul's choral activities are getting busy, with two Remembrance Day concerts. He is also now the Aldergrove Legion's official padre. Cecilia was happy that her husband was home. Sean was happy that the Starfish packs are in another school. Wes thanked our guests for coming.
