THIS WEEK IN ROTARY... VANESSA SANDVIL

Our speaker was Littleton High School biology teacher Vanessa Sandvil who serves as advisor to the school's chapter of the National Honor Society. She and the Society's members hope to host within two years a MobilePack Event for the international organization Feed My Starving Children (FMSC) with the help of the community and other schools in the area. Such an event involves at least 500 volunteers, preparing and packing a minimum of 100,000 meals and paying for all the meals packed. FMSC in turn sees that such meals are distributed by its partners in schools, orphanages, clinics and feeding programs around the world to deliver hope and break the cycle of poverty (for more info, see www.fmsc.org & www.youtube.com/user/FMSC). Individuals and organizations interested in being part of the Honor Society's hoped-for MobilePack event should contact Vanessa at vsandvil@littletonschools.org.
