Peter Harding promptly sounded the bell at 7:00am and invited the exquisite David McKeown to lead the members and guests in the singing of our national anthem. Al B kindly provided a very lovely Rotary grace for us. Thank you very much Al for your kind words.

Greeter Barry M graced us with his presence on this beautiful day and introduced the fellow guest Rotarians who were in attendance at the meeting.

Announcements:

The honorary Steve Ricard, our current District Governor joined us today to transfer the District Governor's pin to Raju Paul- the incoming District Governor. There are 32,000 other Rotary Clubs in the world that are also going to be doing the same around today. We were also presented with a banner from Steve that mentioned that we are the home club for the District Governor for District 5360. Raju had a very nice speech and we gathered together as a club to have a picture taken. Peter presented Raju with one of our club pins.

Guest speaker

We decided to postpone the classification for Mike Fuller as we were running short on time, and Mike's life is so fascinating we did not feel it would give him justice.

Peter did in fact hand over the gavel with a pink ribbon to our new club President-Wynne Bjorgan. Wynne is our club's first woman president and they posed for a picture together.

Happy Bucks:

Bill Hope and Jacquie Brown put forth some money for being happy today, and Peter put in $52 for the 52 weeks he was President of the club.

50/50 JACK POT

50/50

Mr Grant M brought out the deck of cards and announced that the pot is $286. The lucky ticket was won by Raju and he also gave a plug for some Rotary pens that he is selling. Unfortunately Raju did not pull the Joker so the pot is going to grow again.

Sheriff Alec McDougall: You're BUSTED!

Sherriff:

Mr Alec McDougall proudly stood up and threatened the club members with fines of the monetary sort- $1 for all people that were wearing sandals, Raju and Asha for looking too similar.

Coverage of the 2006 Rotary International Convention

Copenhagen, Denmark — As Rotarians looked ahead to Rotary's 102nd year, the 2006 RI Convention drew to a close the night of 14 June. This concluded the first Rotary convention to be held in two countries. The event drew more than 14,700 attendees from about 140 countries.

After presenting his family and his wife, Lorna, to the audience, RI President-elect William B. Boyd gave an address echoing Jeffrey Sachs's earlier comments that day. Boyd stressed that Rotary provides an incredible example of how to overcome obstacles of bureaucracy and intolerance.

"Through Rotary, we have had the chance to touch lives in ways that we could never have imagined before we were part of [it] — through the tremendous power of our vast network of clubs and members," Boyd said.

He went on to emphasize the power of Rotary through club service and fellowship as something that transforms the lives of members and the community. He offered examples of how Rotarians came to the aid of thousands following devastating disasters, such as the south Asian tsunami.

Boyd is continuing RI President Stenhammar's emphases of water management, health and hunger, and literacy. He also adds a fourth emphasis: family of Rotary.

Boyd also acknowledged the challenges of keeping Rotary's ranks going strong. He stressed that Rotary must keep strengthening existing Rotary club programs and projects. "The daily work of making a Rotary club good, inviting, and useful is up to every one of you," he said.

"We must make our Rotary clubs and activities welcoming to those of all ages. Club projects can involve family members, and clubs could hold events that are affordable and appealing to all," Boyd said.

He closed by asking all Rotarians to put the coming year's theme, Lead the Way, into action. "We are not content with the status quo, and we do not look at a problem only to say, 'Someone else will solve it.' We are the ones who ask, why not us? And we are the ones who must Lead the Way. This is an affirmation of my belief in the power of Rotarians to change the world, one positive act at a time."

Coverage of the 2006 Rotary International Convention

2007 Rotary International Convention Committee Chair Julio Sorjus then arrived, dressed as a rugged American pioneer to promote the next convention in Salt Lake City. The city's mayor – and Rotarian – Ross "Rocky" Anderson promised an unforgettable experience in the Rockies for next year's attendees. About 1,650 Rotarians have already registered for the convention, the highest advance registration in recent memory.

Then it was time for a heartfelt farewell from RI President Carl-Wilhelm Stenhammar. In his closing comments, Stenhammar stressed that during the year he has met with Rotary members all over the world and has seen the strides made to get back to basics.

He inspired attendees with a story about a Zone Institute meeting he went to in Korea, which 219 Rotarians attended. "As the institute came to a close, someone raised a resolution that every participant give US$1,000 to The Rotary Foundation," Stenhammar said. "It only took 30 seconds to raise $219,000 for our Foundation."

"It's been splendid and extraordinary for me to meet all of you, and I hope that every one of you will meet me on Rotary paths [in] the future," he said.
