FOUR WAY TEST

In all things we think, say or do

1. Is it the TRUTH?
2. Is it FAIR to all concerned?
3. Will it build GOODWILL and BETTER FRIENDSHIP?
4. Will it be BENEFICIAL to all concerned?

Meeting Highlights

President Asha Paul called us to order at 7:05 a.m. by Raju's time-piece. David McKeown handled the national anthem. Dennis Tillotson presented grace. Doug Kinley was the recipient of the buffet host title in recognition for his winefest efforts, although no wine was served with the lox and capers.

Announcements

Asha provided some deathly wisdom.

Minute People

Jacque Brown announced that $500 and 80 teddy bears will be making the trip to Mexico with her. 5 rather than 4 computers will be presented, due to the generosity of Rotarian Asif Abdul, Calgary Millenium, who provided them at cost.

Doug Kinley upped the ante by playing the Beckham card, marketing ploy. Can you guess in advance what hairstyles to expect at our annual Wine Festival? Doug has money in hand for 70 tickets.

President Asha left us with a quote from Einstein: "Try not to become a man of success, but a man of value."

Harry Kim introduces the three speakers doing their mini classification talk.

Harry Kim introduced three special treats:

Jamie Powell followed in his grandfather's footsteps into Rotary. Jamie is a Calgary native and has been married to Natalie for 7 years and is the proud father of Olivia, turning 3 in January and Reece 6 weeks. When not volunteering Jamie enjoys cycling, water skiing and snow boarding. Not yet independently wealthy Jamie has been a financial advisor with Investors Group for 8 years, holding a Certified Financial Planner designation. Jamie focuses on trust and estate planning, with an emphasis on recreational properties. A herniated disc in his back ended 10 years of competitive rugby and prevents a much anticipated match against Bob Sadler (see below).

Jeanette Pyle explains how her husband is not thrilled that she is allergic to anything less than 18 karat gold.

Jeannette Pyle is a charter member of our club and has already begun the celebrations for her 30th wedding anniversary on October 8th. She has two daughters past the age of 12, 2 grand pups and no grandchildren yet. Jeannette is a gardener, traveler and collector of fine jewellery, with a severe allergy to anything less than 18 karat gold. She was raised in Calgary and has worked at Heritage Park for 12 years. In her words her large and significant mouth mines fundraising gold as Heritage Park's sole fundraiser, working primarily with government grants and significant philanthropists. She has 1 brother and 3 sisters, 2 of who were in attendance.

Bob Sadler was born during an air raid in London and attended boarding school in England, where he played rugby. He was a chartered accountant for 5 years in London before seeking opportunity abroad. He moved to Montreal for a 2 year contract and met his wife Jean, 40 years ago. They have 3 children: 2 engineers and 1 in human resources and are blessed with 3 grandchildren. Bob was in the US during the FLQ crisis and Jean was left to answer the authorities regarding his whereabouts. His daughter Catherine was born, later to interact with Jamie at Heritage Park, in a non-rugby capacity. Bob and family moved to Calgary where he became CFO of his current employer based in the US. Hitting a milestone birthday this past year Bob now works 3 days a week and has drastically reduced his travel. Food traceability has come to the fore for consumers and companies, with concerns about preservatives and additives. Monday is hobby day for Bob, when he works on his train set.

Bob Sadler didn't talk about model trains but how he and his family moved to Calgary, thanks Jean.

Roy Krake thanked our three Rotarians for their mini classification talks.

Roy Krake thanked each speaker individually.

SUNSHINE REPORT

Asha kept the reins to report on anniversaries for Jeannette Pyle, Al Black, Doug Hood and Zuzana. Upcoming birthdays will be celebrated by Martin and Jeannette.

Happy Bucks

John Radermacher had $1 happy for Guess Who's Coming To Dinner? The final sign up is next week. David McKeown had $1 happy that his son Mike's film won the people's choice award. Jeannette had $10 happy for her upcoming 30th anniversary and Heritage Park achieving another milestone with a $3 million donation bringing the total to $49 of the budgeted $55 million. Joan Bedard had $2 happy for 2 of 3 sisters in attendance. Graham Drake had $2 happy for experiencing the President's Cup in person. Surinder had $1 happy for going on vacation. Walter Zuk had $1 happy that Bob Clark washed his face. Al Hardstaff had $1 happy that Bob Clark agreed to fill in for Norm "MIA" Haines and report on Al's $1 happy. Jacquie had $1 happy that Surinder took a brief 45-minute driving vacation to attend the international service meeting. Bob Clark had $1 sad that the Flames are winless (and remain so as of the date of filing this report).

50/50 Jackpot

Walter Zuk making certain Al Hardstaff didn't pick the joker

Beneficent overseer Walter Zuk assured everyone that with a pot of $19.50, whoever drew the joker would receive an even $20. The pressure was too much for Al Hardstaff, although he handled the four-way test and left with a king.

Sheriff Barry Jarvis: You're BUSTED!

Let the guilty beware PDG Raju Paul was handing out fines

Nepotism bit our president when Raju Paul fined the following:

Asha for a 7:05 start.

The Bedard sisters for sitting at the same table, on the same side.

Jeannette for celebrating her anniversary in advance.

Al Hardstaff for missing the joker.

Surinder for wearing green on a Friday.

Walter for being late for his duties.

Anyone who has so far failed to contribute to the wine fest.

Anyone without his or her pins and badges.

News from Rotary International

Oral polio vaccine remains tool of choice in eradication effort

Rotary and its spearheading partners in the Global Polio Eradication Initiative remain committed to reaching all children with the oral polio vaccine (OPV).

Experts with the World Health Organization (WHO) say a recently reported outbreak of vaccine-derived polio in northern Nigeria is an extremely rare occurrence that happens when the weakened form of the virus used in the oral vaccine mutates to a point where it regains its ability to spread and to paralyze children. Such outbreaks are most likely to occur in communities with low childhood immunization rates and poor sanitation, circumstances that give the virus more opportunities to mutate as it circulates among unprotected children.

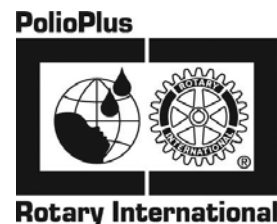

"Some recent media reports have been misinterpreted as implying that oral polio vaccine has paralyzed 69 children in northern Nigeria," WHO says in a statement. "In fact, these children were paralyzed by a vaccine-derived poliovirus to which they were vulnerable because they were not sufficiently vaccinated."

"This is a reflection of low vaccine coverage in this part of Nigeria," explains Dr. David Heymann, WHO's representative of the director-general for polio eradication. He notes that of the children paralyzed, 60 were either unvaccinated or insufficiently vaccinated.

"The only solution is to step up our efforts to immunize all of Nigeria's children," says Robert S. Scott, chair of The Rotary Foundation Trustees and the International PolioPlus Committee. "It would be tragic if parents kept their children from receiving the vaccine based on unwarranted fears about its safety. OPV is the best, most effective weapon we have to fight our real enemy: the wild poliovirus."

According to WHO, "only OPV is proven to rapidly provide very high immunity in the (human) gut and stop polio transmission in a tropical, developing-country setting."

Nigeria is one of only four countries where spread of the wild poliovirus has not been stopped. Since the outbreak was identified in August 2006, four mass immunization campaigns have been completed, and more are scheduled.
