Intro. Speaker+ Christine Martin, former YEX participant

Summary of presentation: Phoebe was able to keep the large assembled group of RCCHP members, visiting Rotarians, Rotary Partners, & other guests hugely entertained with her warm, humourous, and highly personable year-end wrap-up. Highlights were successfully presented in both powerpoint, photography, & video format. She led the group through a month-by-month summary that captured her full and complete immersion in the Canadian/Alberta/Calgarian culture. Perhaps her favorite activities included her dance & singing opportunities where she enjoyed being entertaining as well as being in the limelight. No shyness from her about being witty or front & center. She celebrated being well loved and supported by her host families, & Rotarians in general, with a special note about her enhanced independence levels, increased friendship circles around the world, and her heart being filled with gratitude and many special, life-altering memories.

Thanked by: LeRoy Neilson (with generous use of "amazing" for Phoebe)

Other Announcements (Harold Aitkenhead): The following is the announcement to be placed in the Standard for the next two weeks:

"Roger Sonntag's application for membership was approved by the Club Executive on May 24th, 2016. Following this two week posting and barring any objections from the members a date will be chosen for his induction. Roger is the Director of Sales and Business Development for Integrity Signs Inc. He was introduced to Rotary by Art Sumner." His classification from Rotary International's list will be "Business Development".

Sheriff and Happy Bucks: (waived by Pres. Harry for this meeting due to time constraints)

President Harry's Closing Comments: Thanks to all assembled for being wonderful support to Phoebe & the on-going YEX program.

Sunday, 12 April, marked 60 years since the Salk polio vaccine was declared safe, effective, and potent. In that time, the number of polio cases has dropped by 99 percent worldwide. With just three countries remaining polio-endemic, we are closer than ever to eradicating this crippling disease.

Jonas Salk's inactivated polio vaccine (IPV) has been crucial in helping us reach our goal of a polio-free world. Before the vaccine was widely available, in the United States alone, polio crippled more than 35,000 people each year. By 1957 -- two years after the introduction of Salk's vaccine -- cases in the U.S. had fallen by almost 90 percent, and by 1979, polio had been eradicated there.

Dr Jonas Salk giving one of the first polio vaccinations

The impact on the rest of the world has taken longer. In 1988, when Rotary International launched the Global Polio Eradication Initiative (GPEI) with its partners at the World Health Organization, UNICEF, and the U.S. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, polio continued to cripple children in 125 countries. Today, polio remains endemic in only three: Afghanistan, Nigeria, and Pakistan. And it has been more than eight months since Nigeria's last case, making a polio-free Africa a real possibility.

Salk's vaccine will play an important role in the end-game strategy against polio when 120 countries introduce IPV into their routine polio immunization systems this year. Leading that effort are the GPEI partners and Gavi, a global vaccine alliance, along with Sanofi Pasteur, the largest manufacturer of polio vaccine.

"As more than 120 countries in the world are introducing IPV, we are beginning the last chapter on polio eradication," said Olivier Charmeil, Sanofi Pasteur's chief executive officer. "At Sanofi Pasteur, we have had a long-term vision of IPV as the ultimate public health tool able to finish the job started with Oral Polio Vaccine (OPV)."
