COMMUNITY SERVICE PATROL

PRESENTED BY DAVID VAN DEN BERG
DOWNTOWN ASSOCIATION OF FAIRBANKS

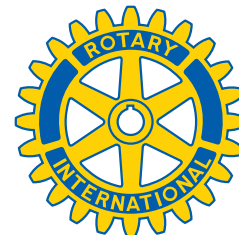

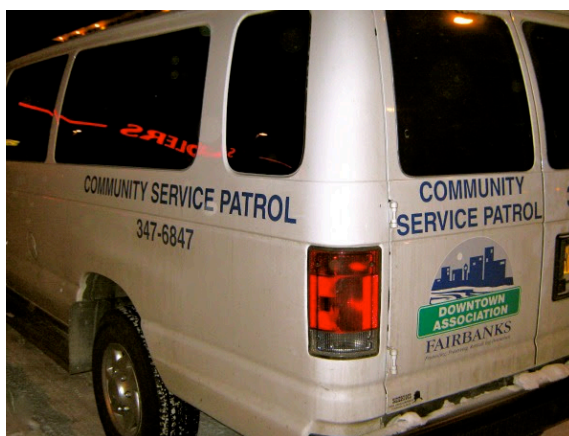

Presenter David van den Berg came to Alaska in 1989 to help clean up oil spilled from the Exxon Valdez. He moved to Fairbanks later that year.

Before joining the Downtown Association of Fairbanks as its Executive Director in July of 2008, he was the Executive Director of the Northern Alaska Environmental Center. Previously, he was president of Arctic Wild, a wilderness guiding company operating throughout Alaska's Arctic.

An avid dog musher, he once traversed the North Slope by dog team from Wiseman via Anaktuvuk Pass to Umiat, onward to Nuiqsut, then by an easterly misadventure through the Prudhoe Bay oilfields to the Dalton Highway. Perhaps surprisingly, he loves being downtown, where he has led the Downtown Association's efforts to revitalize downtown and make it more competitive for investment. David is married to Amy Cook. They have two children, Eleanor and Henri.

The presentation will discuss the persistent need the CSP addresses, the unique funding strategy the CSP program employs, and track the program's development over the last eight years to the present.

ROTARY YOUTH EXCHANGE

You can help promote global peace in your own home by hosting an international exchange student. You can also recommend a non-Rotarian family to host. Please pass the word around. Exposure to new cultures and customs is a powerful way to learn about the world. And it's not just students who benefit – your family will become enriched by extended, friendly contact with a young person from a different culture. Exchange hosting typically lasts 3-4 months, but your family could be left with a friend for life.

If you are interested in hosting an exchange student, please contact Nicole Stewart at nmstewart@petrostar.com or call her at 452-0616.
