Criteria for Youth Awards

Compassion and Empathy:

This individual demonstrates compassion and empathy for others in the form of a single event, project, or series of actions over a period of time. It is their individual act of caring and kindness that relieves the suffering brings happiness or promotes peace within their community

Inner Strength:

This individual has achieved victory over adversity. This person has shown hope, courage and optimism by overcoming difficulty. He or she has demonstrated leadership or the ability to turn things around by making something good out of a bad situation. This act may be related to a personal health, addiction, individual loss, or injury. It may also be related towards others in an unfortunate circumstance.

Helping Hand:

This individual goes above and beyond and helps without seeking personal reward or accolades. It is given to someone who grasps an opportunity to help a friend, relative or neighbor, engages in random acts of kindness or is always willing to make the world a better place by reaching out to others.

Global:

This award will recognize an act or project that is international in nature. Recognition may address relief efforts, health and prevention, peace and understanding, alleviate poverty, build bridges or celebrate diversity.
