ROVING REPORTER

John Mozena
 -- Ted Everingham, a 1961 graduate of Albion College, has been appointed to a 3-year term on the college's Alumni Association Board (nominated by Liz Vogel). Congratulations.
 -- Liz Vogel just celebrated her sixth anniversary working for Clinton Twp.
 -- Jackie Gleason thanked George McMullen for his great presentation at our April 15th meeting, which George also gave at a GP Sunrise meeting.
 -- There is a very moving story on pages 11-12 of the May Rotarian magazine about a member of the Detroit Club.
 -- On the coronavirus front: John noted that his pandemic dreams are more vivid, and he has better recall of them (supported by science) and that his son John had a conversation with a colleague who, when asked how she was doing, answered "coronavirus fine". (Somehow, we all know what she meant).

 -- Per President Judy, former member Peter Henry's son, Atticus, was planning on travelling/studying in Germany. Unfortunately, that has been postponed.
 -- John Maliszewski says that Carrie and their family are doing well and that his virtual attendance is not to blame (since it's 78° in Colorado) for their being snow outside our windows in late April.

OIL CAN

-- Postponed.

SUNSHINE NEWS

-- Susan Mozena gave an update on Arlene Cobau who is doing well and has involved, local, family support.
 -- Our thoughts and prayers go out to Liz Vogel's grandmother who has been diagnosed with the virus and to Murray and Kimberlyn Davis, as Kimberlyn's mother passed away due to natural causes.
 -- Jon and Lisa Gandelot's son, Michael, is doing better as he is recovering from a fever.

COMMUNITY SERVICE

-- No report.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

-- There will be an online Club Foundation Board meeting at 5:30PM on 4/28.

TODAY'S PROGRAM

Grosse Pointe South Interact Club

Unfortunately, the State's cancelling of the school year has limited the Club's community service, but they were able to have several well attended projects. This included, on behalf of The Helm, raking leaves for seniors and writing notes to be included in Meals-On-Wheels meals. It also partnered with the National Honor Society at Gleaners Food Bank and had a great turnout preparing bag lunches for Lunches of Love.

President Enya was happy with the volunteer projects the Club was able to complete and with the turnout. The leadership is encouraging the writing of letters of support to health care workers and to seniors. They also thanked Kevin Cox, George McMullen, Julie Baumer, and Scott Matthews for their support.

George McMullen presented three $1,000 Interact scholarships to Elliott Gunnell (who was president last year and graduated early to study in Sweden – which has been delayed), Laine Johnson, and Enya Nguyen. They all thanked the Club.

Finally, George ended the presentation by nominating Kevin Cox to be faculty-advisor for life. It was unanimously approved without discussion.

FLOWER RAFFLE

Postponed.
