TODAY'S PROGRAM

Jackie Dale – Is It Fair To All Concerned, Our Water

Jackie was impacted by a documentary on the Netflix series Rotten about the Nestle Corporation's access to water in Michigan. It pays very low fees for city water in some areas and to pump water in others.

With the amount of bottle water consumed in the world, under Rotary's 4 Way Test, is the company's low-cost access to water, and the possibility of depleting water supplies, fair to all concerned? At the very least, she believes it's an area to explore.
