ROVING REPORTER

Fred Ollison
 -- Judy Masserang has been asked to be an election inspector on 8/4. She is understandably reluctant to commit at this time.
 -- Suzanne Klein highly recommends the June issue of the Rotarian magazine, which features this year's photo contest winners.
 - Susan and John Mozena enjoyed dinner with their son and family at their home on Memorial Day and Susan has a much greater appreciation of being able to spend time with loved ones.
 -- Richard Yeager-Stiver was disappointed that today's SpaceX rocket launch was delayed until Saturday due to weather.

OIL CAN

-- In honor of Memorial Day, Phil MacKethan passed it to 6 members who served in the military – Dick Allison, Mike Carmody, Murray Davis, Bob Lucas, Bill Scott, and Mark Zmyslowski -- and is leaving it up to them to pick one to pass it on.

SUNSHINE NEWS

-- No news.

COMMUNITY SERVICE

-- The Helm sent a nice thank you note for the kindness notes provided for Meals On Wheels.

TOT LOT

-- President Judy recommends visiting the tot lot to see the new Rotary sign and the work being done. She thanked all who spearheaded/helped, including Bob Lucas, Peter Stroh, Roger Hull, Ted Everingham, Gary Niehaus, and Mike Carmody. Also, Dave Colton for feeding the workers on the 26th and Scott Matthews for capturing the activities on video.

-- Roger Hull announced that the Wilson Foundation has provided the Club with a $10,000 grant. Thank you to Lisa Gandelot and Irena Politano for writing the grant proposal.

-- Mike Carmody is actively involved with GP City and Sinclair Recreation and praised both for quickly addressing any problems that have popped up.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

-- District 6400 has made $1,000 COVID-19 grants available to all of the Clubs. The money was used to purchase 250 N95 masks for GP Beaumont Hospital and 700 ear-loop masks for the Grosse Pointe Public Safety Offices.

TODAY'S PROGRAM

Jackie Gleason – “Red Badger.” Jackie's talk focused on how much she is enjoying being in Rotary, even if a quarter of her time has been virtual meetings. She noted the humor of the roving reporters, the in-house speakers, such as Scott

Matthews, Murray Davis, and Liz Vogel. Her first time at our Club was to see Anna Gleason, our outbound exchange student to Finland, give a presentation.

Jackie has been very involved, attending Cruise for a Cause, the Progressive Dinner, the GPYC holiday dinner, and is an active euchre player. Her community service projects included gathering coats at Northeast Integrated Health and manning the phones at the MI Humane Society telethon.

All of these events have led to the development of new friendships, which she greatly appreciates. She is already looking out 20 years and hopes the Club continues to bring in committed Rotarians.

Jackie shared pictures of her wedding announcement, the family she is marrying into, and the prepping of her new condo. Her wedding, originally scheduled for April, is now set for June 27th.

Prompted by a question, Jackie mentioned that she is a Financial Services Professional for the New York Life Insurance Company. She used to be a teacher and believes her current profession is a calling. If interested in learning more, she has a brochure available.
