TODAY'S PROGRAM

David Dwaihy, co-founder and board member of Detroit City Football Club (DCFC)

Founded in 2012, DCFC played its first four years at Cass Tech before moving to Keyworth Stadium in Hamtramck. With $750,000 raised through its supporters to renovate the stadium, games are a spectacle with the rowdy home crowd and many food and beverage trucks. It has progressed from an amateur team to the second highest professional level in the U.S. The most recent playoff game had 7,100 fans.

The organization is in the process of raising funds to build a new stadium at Michigan and 20th in Detroit, with the hope that it is also used by the community and Wayne State. The club motto is Passion for Our City, Passion for the Game.
