RAMBLING

We start with a photo sent to me by Ron who is on holiday on the Hawaiian Islands

Akaka Falls on Hawaii Island a.k.a Big Island as its name is the same as the island group name. The falls is nearly 129 metres or 422 feet tall.

I usually find motivational posters to be sticky sweet and irritating and so quite enjoy demotivational posters.

Sheriff Carola went rampaging through our loonies again. It was a wide ranging trivia quiz with us as the losers. Perhaps my favourite question was “Alberta oil has similar names to B.C. wines. Can you guess which one of these is a crude oil and not a wine - the Stemwinder, the Highland Bramble, Crushed Innocence or Borealis Blend? (The answer - Borealis Blend which is a rich and heavy brew of lightly diluted crude oil)”. She also returned to her roots with the following question “In international news, the Dutch people are divided over scrapping what law - it’s illegal to insult the King, it’s illegal to ride a fixed gear bicycle, it’s illegal to wear clogs while riding a bike or it’s illegal to dig up tulips?” (The answer – it’s illegal to insult the King and could get you 5 years in jail).

Who knew education could be so expensive?

Friends of Rotary 'Christmas in a Bottle' Fundraiser -

A member of the Friends of Rotary reported:

"We went to KGH lobby yesterday. Here is our table set up. We sold quite a few Christmas in a bottle and more were being sold today. .

We are getting close to selling 100 bottles if not already there. So, this fund raiser so far is a hit."

"Christmas in a Bottle" sells for $20 per bottle and includes: a string of lights and switch in a wine bottle, an AA battery, a Christmas decoration that can be taken off when it's not Christmas, a wine gift bag, and a pamphlet explaining the Rotary Club of Kelowna Capri sponsorship of the annual Cottonwoods Christmas Party.

Public Newsletter – a public version of our newsletter has now been added to our website.

The next one will be organized in the last half of March.

This spring there is a Rotary Leadership Course held at the Capri Hotel on March 24, April 7, and April 21. The course is open to all Rotarians.

guides the future.” This guidance comes from the Objects of Rotary, the Motto of Rotary and The Four Way Test.

Assistant Governor Art then took up the actual induction and explained that while it might seem that she is joining the club, the club itself by accepting her revealed their faith in her.
