

Slowly but Surely

"Slowly but surely,"...that is how best Mityana Project can be described, according to Bro Allan Mop, the Regional Superior for the East African Mission of the Missionaries of the Poor in Kampala, Uganda. "Over the past months of this year, things have been really moving on," expressed the Regional Superior.

Pat McAllister, the Rotary Club of Kelowna Sunrise team leader for the Mityana Project in Uganda, received a recent update that communicated that the water tank had been installed and a solid entrance gate for security has been put into place. The boundaries have been cleared out by cutting bushes and trees. At the moment, the Missionaries of the Poor are installing the poles for the fencing. They share that "with the generous rain, the ground is looking fertile and the plants are green and beautiful; and that with the untiring support of those involved in the project, the Mityana project will be brought into success and fulfillment in God's time."
