Giving in the Aboriginal Culture

Casey Eagle Speaker

Bart Dailley introduced our speaker Casey Eagle Speaker, also known by his traditional name "Sorrel Horse" by his people in the Blackfoot nation. He is a member of the Blood Tribe in Southern Alberta.

Casey provides a wide array of workshops, and in the year 2000 he was awarded the Chief David Crow Child award from the city of Calgary, as well as the Dr. Joseph Crow Shoe award from the University of Calgary for his work in Aboriginal Education.

Casey, a grandfather of twenty two, is a graduate of the University of Washington in Administration. Casey spoke about giving back to the people---a gift with conditions is not a gift. Casey was a student in a residential school, and was referred to as number 56. These scars have not completely healed.

Casey has served on several boards and committees, and has been working with Hull Services for the past seventeen years as the Aboriginal Resource Coordinator.

Following his presentation Casey stayed to answer questions from our club members.

President Stephen thanked Casey for his presentation with a certificate of appreciation and closed the meeting at 1:30 pm.

Grillin' & Servin' June 13th

Dear Members of the Chinook Rotary Club,

I especially want to tell you that Chuck valued his Rotary 53 year membership ever so much. It definitely was one of the important things in his life.

Thank you for sending the newsletter to me, and making me welcome when I am able to attend.

Enclosed is a financial gift which I hope will be used for one of your charitable projects. Rotary has a great reputation for doing good around the world.

Sincerely,
Glad Bury

You've Been Drinking Again

An Irishman had been drinking at a pub all night. The bartender finally said that the bar was closing. So, the Irishman stood up to leave and fell flat on his face. He tried to stand one more time; same result. He figured he'd crawl outside and get some fresh air and maybe that will sober him up. Once outside, he stood up and fell on his face again. So he decided to crawl the four blocks home. Again, he fell flat on his face. He crawled through the door and into his bedroom. When he reached his bed he tried one more time to stand up. This time he managed to pull himself upright, but he quickly fell right into the bed and was sound asleep as soon as his head hit the pillow. He was awakened the next morning to his wife standing over him, shouting, "SO YOU'VE BEEN DRINKING AGAIN!" Putting on an innocent look, and intent on bluffing it out he said, "What makes you say that?" "The pub just called; you left your wheelchair there again."
