Our Arch Supporters ... THANK YOU !!

Bart Dailley introduced our speaker, Josh Traptow, who is the Executive Director of the Calgary Heritage Authority (CHA).

The mandate of the CHA is to advise Calgary City Council on all matters relating to heritage resources in Calgary, to evaluate potential heritage sites, to maintain an inventory of Evaluated Historic Resources, and finally, to promote public awareness of Calgary's Heritage. The Board is composed of 10 to 12 electors, one of which can be a member of Council and one a member of the Legislative Assembly.

The Inventory of Evaluated Historic Resources is a list of sites that have been evaluated by the CHA according to the Council-approved policy. Preservation of these sites is considered to be to the greater benefit of Calgarians.

Some of the sites on the inventory are legally protected by the Province of Alberta as designated Provincial Historic Resources or by the City as Municipal Historic Resources under the Alberta Historical Resources Act. Unless a site has been legally protected as a designated Historic Resource, the normal land use and development conditions apply, including the ability to alter or demolish.

There are over 800 sites on the inventory at present, with 20 to 30 more added each year. the sites have to meet a number of criteria to be selected

Sports Injuries

Dr. Ron Barlot

Bart Dailley introduced our guest, Dr. Ron Barlot. Dr. Ron is a Doctor of Chiropractic and practiced for years and operates out of an office in southwest Calgary. He treats musculoskeletal and neurological disorders. Many of his patients have sports related injuries.

He described all manner of ways you get injured, including football, mountain biking, hiking in the summer, even golf. Soft injuries are of the flesh and hard injuries are broken bones.

Quoting Dr. Barlot: "I was grateful to have back pain 4 years ago — I could finally empathize with mu patiends and test my own recommendations."

The meeting was drawn toa close by the President presenting the guest speaker our usual gift "a donation to Polio Plus".

Scribe/Editor's Note Week 4: Well you cannot say I did not warn you! As I sit here and compile my notes into something legible for my final week as scribe, we are under a winter storm watch with 10+ cm of snow forecast. If only you had convinced David Irving to replace me, spring would be on its way. I am 100% convinced that the new March scribe will bring in spring weather — you just could have had it sooner ... !

We were met at the door by the Greeter Duo of George Kimura and Pat Hutchison. Nice to be met with smiles and warm handshakes (even if just to take the chill off one's hands from coming in from the cold). We were in the Windsor Room for a change, and that made it difficult to spot fellow Rotarians, there being no mirrors to look for them in.

The Minute People began with Tammy Truman who, as a major sponsor of the District Conference, has two tickets valued at $450 each that she cannot use — she is looking to make a deal so call her.

Peter Bickham, a self described two-minute man, advised us on the Cribbage Windup event on April 14th (prizes, trophies etc). Peter also informed us that International Service and Youth Service had linked up and made a joint presentation to our Henry Wisewood Interact group, resulting in them providing two scholarships to the girls' group we support.

President Alex brought the meeting to order on time with a loud clang on the bell (right beside Dave Wylie's head as he worked on the PA system). Following wonderful renditions of O Canada and Rotary Grace, thanks to Ruth being there on the piano, we were served a feast of roast chicken or a chef's salad.

President Alex brought the meeting back to order at 12:42pm and Pat Hutchinson introduced the three guests: Josh Traptow our speaker; Will Schmidt, past and prospective member; and Don Taylor from the South Club.

Ian Burgess then took the podium and gave us a "short" history on Paul Harris' birthday (February 23rd) and on Polio Plus — from the Polio epidemic in Manitoba (1952/53), the Salk injection vaccine in 1955, and the Sabin oral vaccine in 1960 to the present — from 350,000 annual polio cases in 1955 to 2 cases so far in 2018. Ian feels that polio will soon be defeated, and it is time to begin finding a new target. Polio has almost been defeated not just by the money that Rotary and our partners have raised, but by Rotary being involved. Rotary brought a network of skilled and connected manpower that overcame logistical barriers, and as a "non-political" group, connected locally and overcame resistance to "Immunization Days" in countries suspicious of motives. Polio Plus efforts have not only been good for the world, but they have brought Rotary together worldwide in a way that only such a monumental project can. Looking forward, Ian would like Rotary to now focus on Influenza. New modern vaccines need to be developed to address over 6 million deaths per year. What is needed is a group like Rotary to champion this effort.

The first order of business was to locate the owner of a set of lost keys. It seems that Dr Ian Burgess may have been locked out of home for the past week.

Meeting Minutes February 27th

To finish things off on a high note, Rob Wolfson stepped up to hand out many $20 prizes from the hockey pool.

Pat Hutchison unfortunately had some items for the Sunshine Report. First Don McLean had left the meeting to head home as he was feeling a bit off. Hank Popoff is home with the flu, having holed up in an Edmonton hotel room on the weekend missing the curling activities. And finally, our deep condolences to Al and Bev Pettigrew, Al's 103 year old mother having died.

It took two draws, but finally Gwentyth Gourley took home the 50/50 prize.

Albert Amaniampong was SAA and he lightened members' pockets for cell phone offences, those who had profited from Wolfson's largess, and then a mathematical challenge. Good News from Pat Hutchinson about watching the youth kids play curling, and then from Ryan MacLean who is one of three Albertans selected to attend an investment seminar in Texas.

Bart Dailey then shoed everyone off the stage and introduced our guest speaker for inclusion. It is not just houses, but a wide variety of places that were part of the development of Calgary, some over 100 years old, some recent. For a list of the sites and for more information on the CHA itself, you can go to: www.calgaryheritageauthority.com

The CHA also handles "The Lions" awards. This biannual award recognizes individuals and organizations who have undertaken initiatives, of any scale, in support of heritage conservation in Calgary. They also have a Plaques program putting up plaques on sites to inform Calgarians about the historical significance of both protected and unprotected heritage sites. They work with owners in a number of cases to help establish uses for sites so they remain active, not vacant.

President Alex thanked the speaker and presented him with a Polio Plus certificate.

Alex Soutar, in charge, called the meeting to order on time.

The guests were introduced by Bill Churchward. One of the greeters, Tammy Truman, was missing in action, and the guests were Will Schmidt and our speaker, Dr. Ron Barlot.

Spouses' birthdays: Faye Green, Margaret Langereis, Judy Thompson and Josie Hennessy

Anniversaries: David and Margaret Irving, 49 years March 1st; Joe and Maya Jogia 45 years on March 11th

Minutemen:

Paul Gaudet announced the District Governor would be attending the Member-Guest night on March 20th.

The 50/50 draw was won by Tom Sorenson.

Sargeant-at-Arms Paul Gaudet charged all and sundry and he even called for everyone to pay — those who did not participate in the District Bonspiel in Edmonton, and as usual Good/Bad News was called for. Congratulations to Bruce Bohnet and Joe Hooper.

From then on it was "the Paul Gaudet Show":

The meeting on March the 20th was cancelled in favour of an afternoon meeting starting at 5:30 to 7pm to welcome the potential members — so it's important that we have a good showing from our members.

There will be a cash bar and a choice of finger food will be available.

Members' birthdays: Graham Boone, Gwynneth Gourley, Stephen Pick and Garth Plunkett

Mix 'N Mingler

Remember! Next week's meeting is our Membership Mix 'N Mingler at The Carriage House Inn from 5:30 - 7:00pm

The cost for members is $15, with no cost for prospective member guests. We will provide light appetizers and finger food. There will be a cash bar for refreshments. We will have a great line-up of guest speakers to reignite your Rotary flame.

See you there!!
