CLUB NEWS

Good afternoon Rotarians and Guests. Welcome to the October 14th, 2021 meeting of the Rotary Club of Calgary at Stampede Park. I am the Club's President, Craig Stokke

I hope everyone had a great Thanksgiving.

Today we start our meeting on a sad note. On October 4th we lost a valued friend and Rotarian, John Fowlis. John had been a member of our Rotary Club for over 39 years and his contributions made a lasting impact in our community. John's memorial was yesterday and I understand it was very nice. Please join me for a moment of silence as we remember our friend John. We have published his obituary in the bulletin.

Please join me for the singing of O Canada followed by Rotary Grace.

HEAD TABLE: Bryan Walton, Dan Cloutier; our guest speaker, PP Penny Leckie, Hans Tiedemann, Karen Murray; Rotary Employment Partnership

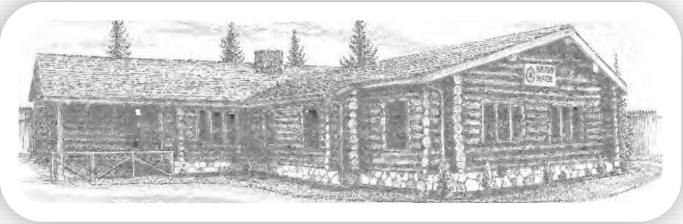

GUESTS: Sandy Dougall introduced Karen Murray (REP), Speaker Dan Cloutier, Ken McCauley (Guest: Bryan Walton), Susan Brick, Brenda and Jack Boman (Guest: Paul Brick), Dale Struckness (Guest: Penny Leckie), Steven Cruse (Guest: Glen Godlonton), Doug Reeh (Guest: Darlene Whitmore), Rick Matthews (Guest: Janet Matthews) and Todd Richardson, guest of himself. Welcome all!

Rotary Employment Partnership: Karen Murray is employed with the Partnership which serves individuals with intellectual disabilities by providing advocacy in the areas of community recreation as well as employment opportunities. She noted that October is Disability Employment Awareness month. She asked us to think about our first job and how we got that job. Usually it is through connections with family and friends. This partnership with Inclusion Alberta helps to develop those connections for their clients. The rate of unemployment for those with intellectual disabilities is 75-80%.

Their clients are isolated, especially now with the pandemic. They have very special partnerships across Alberta to find that "hidden job market". Inclusion Alberta provides the onboard training and support as long as the job exists. There is a great economic advantage to hiring such an individual as the statistics show less turnover, higher safety standards and better attendance. Karen concluded by issuing a challenge to bring two leads to her in the next two weeks. Hans Tiedemann has her contact information.

GUEST SPEAKER:

Speaker Introduction: Bryan Walton:

Dan Cloutier - President of Seer Management Investments (SMI) and Agro Resiliency Kit (ARK) Ltd, Dan has significant expertise in incubating high-growth technology-based companies. Seer has worked as a consulting company in energy efficiency since its inception. We have typically contracted our services under others brands as we do today with On-site Power Partners / Crown Capital and Nexus Power Solutions over the last decade.

Ark is an ancient Hebrew word for “to cover”. That is extremely apt as the vision and purpose of our company, coming from our roots in the energy sector which led us to understand the incredible opportunities in front of us for far greater energy efficiency by means and approaches of leveraging passive solar for space heating but also cooling which we demonstrate and have deployed in our commercial greenhouse co-located on Sprung's corporate campus located in Aldersyde, Alberta. Greenhouses have many uses such as of course growing produce, but not least of which is for use in the most energy efficient commercial building applications in the world such as what Manitoba Hydro has proven with their highly energy efficient head office, close to the corner of Portage and Main in Winnipeg. This building has proven that even in a very cold climate, it is entirely feasible to heat and cool a multi-story tower without the use of fossil fuels. Seer/ARK /Sprung Structures is pursuing advancing such energy efficiency and high resiliency feats for its customers. ARK in a business alliance with Sprung Instant Structures. ARK is a consortium of companies working together to offer a comprehensive solution set for advancing greenhouse growing through state-of-the-art structures, energy efficiency (e.g. CHP), vertical grow structures, lighting, aquaponics and more, to achieve unparalleled productivity, low capital cost, low operating cost and sustainable, resilient operation.

Dan is recognized as a leading cogeneration industry figure. For over two decades, Dan has coordinated the installation of more micro-CHP into commercial buildings than anyone else in Alberta. In Western Canada, Dan has sold and installed CHP systems for many customers.

In addition to cogeneration / combined heat and power projects Dan has been involved small-scale wind, solar and geothermal. Dan's first involvement with combined heat and power solutions was as a volunteer Board member of Cardel Place where Dan spearheaded pursuing the first Gold Leed designation in Alberta. Dan is a third generation native Albertan with a myriad of volunteer experience going back to the early 80's with Clean Calgary, the Calgary Field Naturalists, to the American Marketing Association who presented him a Special Merit Award, to 2009 when Dan was named the Calgary Northstars Hockey Associations Volunteer of the Year.

Dan Cloutier-“Transforming to Permaculture Hubs” (Please review the video for the full presentation)

<https://youtu.be/UWsAFFQ4PkE>

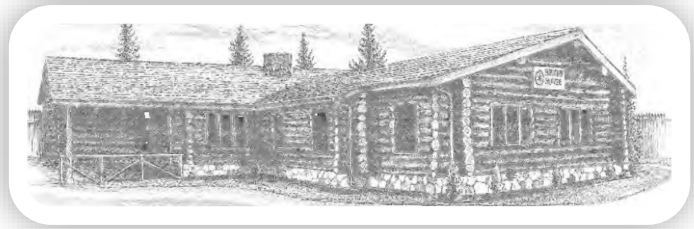

Dan asked us to think about what we need to do differently. The answer is in one sense “Back to the future”. It is an evolution from the “bigger is better” mantra we have had for many years. In the past the energy and Agri communities in Alberta was made up of fiercely independent settlers, farmers and ranchers as well as wild cat drillers and junior oil and gas companies.

Currently 11 companies supply most of what is available in the grocery store. In the past it was home gardens and farmer's markets that supplied our needs.

The current supply chain issues create lots of complexity and is energy intensive. Consider how to shorten the food chain

The reason for a “Back to the Future” consideration: inflation is now at 7-8% and meat constitutes half of food at home price increases. There is a lot happening now in the agricultural and energy world-a transformation.

GUEST SPEAKER:

Dan is excited to be in a strategic alliance with an old company-Sprung. Sprung has been ahead of their time by owning and operating a greenhouse, marrying their unique membrane with technology. Dan’s company provide the technology and equipment inside the Sprung greenhouses. The Sprung membrane is 3 lb. per square foot which makes it economical to create a rooftop greenhouse. There is one in downtown Calgary above the TD Bank.

We had our start in the greenhouse industry that began in the early 1980’s. After several years in research and development our first major project was a joint venture between Sprung and the Government of Newfoundland with the construction of a 300,000 ft hydroponic facility that made Newfoundland self sufficient in vegetables grown year round.

Dan noted numerous opportunities in agriculture to create the best efficiencies. There is a demonstration greenhouse on the Sprung campus. They are able to grow lettuce and kale year round with surplus being sold to small health food stores. He noted that 25% of the cost of lettuce is transportation costs.

It is an old concept, now new again: how to make a small parcel of land profitable? Through vertical growing. For example, a farm field of 1/10th of an acre can yield 4500 plants. Compared to vertical gardening, that same 1/10th of an acre in a greenhouse can yield 25-50,000 plants. This is much more profitable. Dan also noted a 3,000 year-old technology to raise rainbow trout in trenches where you can grow a lot of fish and use the fish water for the plants.

Dan provided a number of examples of these types of changes to create more efficiency by using smaller spaces to produce a large crop that is fresh and available all year round.

He also noted ways to make energy more efficient and sustainable, through biofuel, algae greenhouses for new replenishment fuels and providing the example of the head office of the Manitoba Hydro Building at Portage and Main, heated by geothermal means in a very cold climate. The final slide in the presentation “ Permaculture Design for our Future” sums up the key points of the presentation

Permaculture Design For Our Future

That

- History
- Economic Growth ↑
- Population Growth ↑
- Cheap Foods ↑
- Cheap Fertilizers ↑
- Cheap Abundant Energy ↑

The Future?

Difficult growth at best except mostly those solving energy and food challenges

Food Inflation ↑

Fertilizer Inflation ↑

Energy Scarcity & Inflation ↑

Population, Water & Soil Issues

Or This

1. Gain of rooftop acreage with little transport required
2. Role of small business in decentralized production
3. Virtually free greenhouse bldg. cooling
4. Virtually free passive solar greenhouse bldg heating
5. Composting for heating, nutrient reuse and biogas
6. Aquaponics to solve overfishing and reduce produce fertilizer costs
7. Cogen to quadgeneration for energy efficiency
8. Algae greenhouse for new fast replenishment fuels and plastics
9. Concentrated solar plus overall energy hub
10. Only a fragment of what permaculture has to offer

Speaker Thanks: Penny Leckie thanked Dan for his fabulous stories of innovation in the two key areas of agriculture and energy. She noted they are the building blocks of our country and appreciated Dan showing us the potential for the future

In Closing:

President Craig: In recognition of your time today, our Club will make a donation to the Calgary Rotary Clubs Foundation. This gift will help support our community. Thank you.

RCCSP HIKING CLUB

Oct. 13th:

On a crisp fall day we had up to 22 hikers, the youngest of which was 3 months old - (he actually rode). Our hike was at Shannon Terrace in Fish Creek Park where we spotted this large beaver dam. The colours were definitely fall and that water looked cold. The highlight was our potluck lunch, spread on a picnic bench. The rain held off pretty well until the end when there was a light drizzle on us, the food and the cameras, but we had a fire to keep us warm thanks to Larry and Ken. This last shot was taken by Kathy Demorest so Pat F. is in the picture.
