This Week's Program Highlights

Prelude - Larry Neely

Chair - Walt Pawlovich

Desk - Walt Pawlovich

O Canada and Rotary Grace - Larry Neely

4 Way Test Song - Larry Neely, Jim Gillis and Norm Woodcock

Greeter - Walt Pawlovich was greeter but there were no guests.

Program - Michael Gramiak - Vocational Service in Action

It was a small but spirited group that turned out on a bitterly cold day. Good old Walt Pawlovich seemed to be everywhere as he filled in at the desk, as meeting chair, greeter and Cheer Captain. He even introduced and thanked the speaker, our own Michael Gramiak. President Candace Odishaw was a surprise attendee. Unfortunately, she had to cancel her trip to Costa Rica due to a workplace injury.

As January is Vocational Service Month, Michael conducted a workshop on how we can put Vocational Service into action. After a short ice breaker game of rock, paper, scissors (who knew that so many of us don't know how to play this game), Michael led a discussion on What is vocational service? and How can we put it to work to attract new members to our club? There was general agreement that, even though many of us are retired, we can still work to mentor young people in their careers and to encourage them to join Rotary as a way of serving society. Michael drew much of his material from the RI publication Vocational Service in Action, which is distributed with this newsletter. Michael asked all to read the document and to invite at least one young person out to a Rotary meeting.

50:50 Draw - Lorne Braithwaite coordinated the 50:50 draw. Candace Odishaw won the pot of $12.

Cheer Captain - Walt Pawlovich invited members to share happy/sad dollars, which included: Kim Horan because so many of us don't know how to play rock, paper, scissors even though the game dates from the Han Dynasty more than 2,000 years ago; Candace Odishaw for Stan Garchinski and Walt Pawlovich filling in as meeting chairs (even though Candace had to cancel her trip to Costa Rica she vowed she would be going to Las Vegas at the end of the month); Larry Neely and others for Michael's presentation; Bryan Tastad for the death of his cousin in a car accident; John Hanlin for a car crash that occurred before Christmas; Norm Woodcock because the Green Bay Packers are still playing; and Jack Scott because it's supposed to warm up (by June 15).
