Today Rick, his staff, and the Hands On Board of Directors operate the centre exclusively with charitable donations and a vast network of hard-working volunteers. Hands On is a registered charitable organization dedicated to serving the physical and emotional needs of Saskatoon's inner city children and youth. On a daily basis it provides a safe environment, healthy meals, clothing, activities and entertainment such as books, videos, ping pong, billiards, foosball, board games, hockey, basketball, football, arts and crafts. The organization also has a shop where it rebuilds classic cars, then sells them as a fundraiser. Candace Odishaw thanked Rick on behalf of the club.
