What You Missed August 12, 2016

- by John Andras

The Rooftop Patio at the National Club was transformed into a Caribbean paradise. Even the hot and humid summer weather reflected the theme. We were greeted with a refreshing tropical punch, a steel band played "Oh Canada", and we dined upon a festival of island flavours (salt cod fritters, jerk chicken, Jamaican patties, roasted coconut and Appleton rum balls and banana cream tarts to name a few). We were transported to the Islands and members and guests relaxed and left their daily troubles behind for a mini-vacation in the heart of the city. As we mingled, all that was missing was the sound of pounding surf.

President Susan introduced the meeting theme of diversity and inclusion. She suggested that as a club we should strive to have a membership that better reflects the cultural mosaic of our great city. She then introduced former Toronto Eglinton Rotary Club member Meu Ching Compton before introducing the members of the Toronto 2018 RI Convention Organizing Committee including Past DG Michael Cooksey, our own member Michele Guy and our perennial make-up guest Stephen Wilkinson.

President Susan then introduced Rotary International President Elect Ian Riseley and RI Convention Chair Gordon McNally. It was remarked that Toronto is truly a diverse city and the Convention Committee reflects the diversity of Rotary with members from Turkey, Australia, South Africa, the United States, Scotland and Toronto. We were reminded that young people measure time before major events in sleeps. As of Friday August 12, 2016, there were 680 sleeps until the opening ceremonies!

For those that missed this informal summer get together it is hoped that it will be repeated next year.
