Coming Up Tuesday ...

Tuesday's program will feature several Moorhead Rotarians introducing themselves and talking about their careers and families. Stacey Ackerman is sergeant at arms, and Emily Gess is Rotarian of the day. Our greeters are Bob Hanna and Steve Schaefer.

Northern Plains Botanical Garden brings fresh outdoor experiences

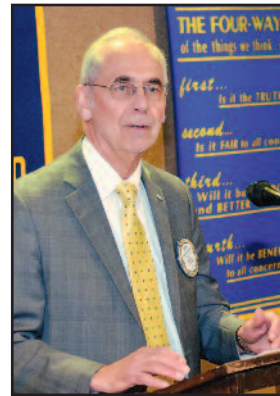

President John Andreasen welcomed a lighter-than-normal crew of Rotarians to Tuesday's meeting, along with a special guest — Fidelia Manninga of Hawley, an Oak Grove High School graduate originally from Cameroon who has been serving in the Peace Corps.

She told the club about her application for the Rotary Peace Fellowship, a program for scholars advocating for international peace and conflict resolution. The fellowship enables young people to gain advanced educational training at select universities around the world.

John shared a brief summary of board action, with an overview of international service projects and progress on planning the budget for the upcoming 2019-2020 year.

Brett Drevlow announced that the new club website, www.moorheadrotary.org, is now online. Instruction on accessing the website and Clubrunner on your smart phone will be part of the June 11 meeting agenda.

Brandi Malarkey of the Northern Plains Botanic Society gave an overview of its botanic garden in north Fargo and plans for its expansion.
