Rev. Dr. Webster Edwards receives the inaugural Orville Walker Vocational Service Award

The annual Vocational Service Award made by the Rotary Club of St Andrew which has been renamed the ORVILLE WALKER VOCATIONAL SERVICE AWARD is bestowed upon an individual who has demonstrated a strong record of commitment and achievement in his/her chosen vocation for the advancement of the vocation and the nation.

Dr. Webster Edwards

The recipient of this inaugural ORVILLE WALKER VOCATIONAL SERVICE AWARD is a lifetime Minister of Theology.

He attended St. Jago High School, then an intellectual oasis of only the most academically able 110 boys in all of St Catherine. He was drawn to the ministry due to the influence of his Sunday school teacher and in 1961 he enrolled at the Union Theological Seminary where he trained as a Minister of the Methodist Church.

Our Awardee's thirst for knowledge was unquenchable and he went on to achieve a Diploma of Theology from the University of London, a Bachelor of Arts degree from the University of the West Indies, a Master's degree in Education from the Princeton Theological Seminary and a Doctor of Ministry from the Columbia Theological Seminary.

Highly trained and filled with passion for his craft, he entered the ministry as a Methodist Minister on the Browns Town/Edmonson Circuit and after only one year he was handpicked by the legendary Reverend Father Hugh Sherlock, who had founded the Boys' Town institution, to head a similar social outreach experiment in the city's inner city industrial district known as Operation Friendship.

Many persons thought it an ambitious assignment for a young man in his midtwenties, but Father Sherlock foresaw what we see now, and in 1966 our awardee was appointed Executive Director of Operation Friendship. The Methodist Synod's vision and trust in him was to be rewarded tenfold over the ensuing 50+ years. Rev. Dr. Edwards expanded the program and founded the Operation Friendship Skills Training Centre in 1978, under the mission statement:

"To offer skills training to vulnerable persons within Kingston and surrounding inner-city communities. To facilitate assessment and certification of trainees for the labour market to meet the demand for economic and social development of the nation in a globally competitive marketplace."

Operation Friendship has changed the lives of hundreds of our most marginalised and forgotten youth who might otherwise have been lost to crime and poverty - all nurtured in the character building and soul enriching context of Rev. Dr. Edward's divine Christian vocation.

Over half a century of transformational work in applying his vocation in this noble pursuit would have been enough to qualify our Awardee for the recognition now bestowed, but for Rev. Dr. Edwards this was just a part of his story.

He has served as Chaplain of the Port Security Corps and also of the Jamaica Defence Force since 1978 presiding at the Garrison Church at Up Park Camp. As an active Minister of Religion, he serves the nation in multiple areas such as officiating at marriages, funerals and baptisms, as well as offering personal counselling services.

RCSA Activities Highlight: Throuback of our Joint Meeting with the Rotary Club of Manor Park

In a challenging time, Rotary members and partners have shown drive in overcoming challenges

by Diana Schoberg Image credit: Andrew Esiebo

It was May 1997, and Sam Okudzeto, then a member of the African Regional PolioPlus Committee from Ghana, was flying to Sierra Leone for what he anticipated would be a routine annual meeting about polio eradication in Africa. But when his plane touched down and he looked out the window, he saw that soldiers, guns drawn, had flooded the tarmac.

As Okudzeto made his way to passport control, he asked an airport official what was going on. "Listen carefully," he was told. "You can hear the guns." There had been a coup that morning.

"All we heard was boom, boom," Okudzeto recalls. "Then I realized that the aircraft that had brought us had gone."

With no taxis running, Okudzeto and the other meeting participants who had been on the plane walked to a nearby hotel. "We all went to our rooms and put our luggage down and then went to the restaurant," he recalls. "I asked for the biggest and juiciest sole fish I had ever had in my life, because it might be my last supper." (Luckily it wasn't, and four days later, Okudzeto and the others caught a helicopter out of the country.)

"There is an enemy in life — and it's fear," he says now. "For those who are not afraid, it's amazing what you can do. It's fantastic to see the result now: Africa is [wild] polio-free."

In August 2020, the World Health Organization (WHO) certified the African region free of wild poliovirus, the culmination of a decades-long effort involving millions of Rotary members, health workers, government officials, traditional and religious leaders, and parents. Since 1996, a year when wild polio paralyzed an estimated 75,000 children across Africa, health workers have given more than 9 billion doses of the oral polio vaccine, preventing 1.8 million wild polio cases.

"Everybody chipped in," says Gaston Kaba, longtime chair of the Niger PolioPlus Committee (he retired from the position in June 2019). "Volunteers, town criers, many other people were involved. Nobody knows about them. They worked quietly to get the job done."

The 47 countries that make up WHO's African region are home to nearly 1,400 Rotary clubs and 32,000 members, many of whom have dedicated time and resources to the effort. Rotary members around the world have contributed nearly $890 million toward eradicating polio in the region, advocated for support from their governments, mobilized communities around National Immunization Days, and held events for World Polio Day to raise public awareness.

In a challenging time, Rotary members and partners have shown drive in overcoming challenges cont'd.

The legacy of those efforts is a health care infrastructure that is playing an important role in the COVID-19 pandemic and is poised to respond to future public health emergencies. The laboratory and surveillance networks developed to track the poliovirus are being used to monitor other diseases. Polio workers bolster an array of routine immunizations, deliver deworming medicines and oral rehydration salts, and provide other health services. And they continue to vaccinate children against polio, because until the virus is eradicated from the earth, it remains a threat everywhere. "Being declared free of polio is an amazing success," says Teguest Yilma, Ethiopia PolioPlus Committee chair. "I am happy — but I'm still not relaxed."

In a time of extraordinary challenges, we can celebrate the eradication of wild polio in the African region. Here are just a few of the stories of the drive and determination Rotary members and our partners have shown in overcoming challenges and setbacks.

Your Advantage...Our Passion

Rev. Dr. Webster Edwards receives the inaugural Orville Walker Vocational Service Award cont'd.

To our enduring gratitude, Father Sherlock introduced Rev. Dr. Edwards to Rotary and this, shall we say, has been a match made in heaven! He has served with distinction in almost every area of Rotary Club and District life and his titles and accolades include President Rotary Club of St Andrew (1982/83), Assistant District Governor, Charley Braham Awardee (2001), Distinguished Rotarian Awardee (2004) and Paul Harris Fellow.

Our Awardee also served the nation on a wide variety of public boards and committees including the Board of JAMAL from 1978 to 2016 (including as Chairman for 3 years), the Gun Court Review Board, the Peter Moses led Commission established by Parliament in 1999 to review gas price hikes and the resulting strikes, the Police Service Commission, the 2000 National Commission on Ganja, the Common Entrance/GSAT Review Committee of the Ministry of Education, the Postal Corporation of Jamaica, the Advisory Board of Food for the Poor and the National Family Planning Board. He is a Justice of the Peace and a Life Member of the Lay Magistrates Association.

A grateful nation has also recognised Rev. Dr. Edwards for his unstinting service with the Norman Washington Manley Award for Excellence in 2000, the Lay Magistrate Association of Jamaica Award and the Order of Distinction (Officer Class) in 1979.

Peacebuilding can be a matter of networks

by Geoffrey Johnson

"I've been in conflict resolution my whole career," says Randy Butler, the founder and CEO of the Institute for Sustainable Peace. A former trial lawyer, Butler abandoned the courtroom to focus on using mediation to resolve disputes and training others in the use of mediation. "I'd found my passion," he says.

In 2018, he led a workshop to "build the skills necessary to overcome the polarization we are experiencing in the United States." When Butler reached out to the peacebuilding committee at the Rotary Club of Boulder, he met Gary Kahn, who asked him: "Why are you not a member of Rotary?"

Attending a meeting of the Boulder club, he says, "it was amazing to look at all these people around the room — the district attorney; medical professionals and successful businesspeople; college professors — and realize that here was a club that had brought all these individuals together and that they make a real difference in what they're doing." It was Butler's Rotary epiphany. "I suddenly saw this network forming all over the world: people who knew how to get things done and knew people they could get things done with."

Today he's the chair of the peacebuilding committee of the 101-year-old club, which has dedicated its second century to fostering peace. "We remind our club members that all of our projects that help to build Positive Peace involve collaborations at the community level, even across traditional divides," he says, noting that they look forward to using the vast Rotary network to build even more "bridges of understanding."

MOTIVATIONAL QUOTE Make this a better world

By Webster Edwards

We can all contribute something to make this world a better place in which to live. Yet we allow time to pass without seizing the moment.

Each day presents us with a unique opportunity to learn, and to commit ourselves to doing good.

Set yourselves the task of doing something special during this day. You can assist a child or give counsel to someone who is in need.

Look beyond your regular circle of friends to the world of need which is knocking at your door and make this world an incredibly special place for someone who might be expecting you to provide an answer to his/her prayers.

Michael Jackson and Lionel Ritchie in that memorable charity single "We are the world" reminds us that:

"There comes a time when we heed a certain call, when the world must come together as one."

The time is now, and we certainly have a crucial role to play in making this world a happy and more humane place in which to live.
