Keeping children safe from Polio

By S.R. Yogananda, past governor of District 3190 and 2011-14 regional Rotary Foundation coordinator

I had just come back from an assignment overseas in 1987 when I rejoined the Rotary Club of Bangalore East after an absence. I enjoyed the fellowship before meetings when I could connect with all my friends in one time and place. At one such meeting, one of our club leaders talked about Rotary's top priority to eradicate polio and mentioned an upcoming immunization drive that Sunday. But that Sunday, I had a wedding to attend of a friend of the family, who I knew would notice if I arrived late. At 06:30 that morning, I received a call from our polio committee chair, reminding me of the event. He was so convincing that I should volunteer that I said yes, even though I was not happy I would be missing the wedding.

When I arrived at the health center I found fellow Rotarians and friends wearing End Polio Now clothing waiting to get started. Some were accompanying health workers and cadets to various outreach centers where they were handing out packets of information. A vehicle with a loud speaker was announcing our immunization efforts, which were further communicated by large banners hanging overhead.

Vaccination materials were thrust into my hands and I was soon driving toward an outreach center with my wife and two health workers. Paved roads and villas gave way to mud roads and smaller houses. I climbed on to the roof of a house and started tying a banner to an electric pole.

A busy looking man came down from the opposite building and said "Welcome, sir. So, you are a Rotarian. I am the president of the resident's association here. What a great thing Rotary is doing, trying to eradicate polio."

He brought a ladder to help me, and by the time I tied the banner and came down, there were cups of coffee waiting for us. Within half an hour, the place was decked out with polio eradication banners and signs. People began to stream in. We started to help administer drops of oral polio vaccine. After a young child came in and was vaccinated, the mother thanked us. Then she told me her husband wanted to speak to me. So I went out and found him sitting in the crowd. He said to me, "Rotary is indeed great. Polio is terrible."

Then I noticed the crutch he had and the difficulty he had in balancing himself. I reached out to steady him, and as I saw the moisture in his eyes, my experience with Rotary was transported to an entirely new level. I had a greater understanding of what it means to be a Rotarian and what it is we are doing in this world. I eventually made it to the wedding later in the day. However, I realized my presence there wasn't nearly as important as where I was earlier; at a health center doing my part keeping children safe from polio.

Stopping the spread of COVID-19 in Bangladesh

By Abdullah Al Fahad, Rotaract Club of Dhaka Orchid, Bangladesh

In Bangladesh, the infection rate from COVID-19 had been increasing daily earlier this year. The death rate was also frighteningly high. It's a threat to our country's health and economy. Our population density is simply too high. The best way to decrease the spread of COVID-19 is by using facemasks. Therefore, we felt we needed to work hard as a Rotaract club to remind people of the importance of wearing face masks.

Together with our four sister clubs, we distributed 25,000 facemasks to people in the public areas of Dhaka in April, where people go to work to earn their livelihood. They are vital to our economy and it's important for us to protect them.

Rotaract and Rotary clubs in Dhaka distributed 25,000 masks in April.

For weeks, we listened as medical experts warned that not enough tests were being conducted. News reports and social media forecasted additional deaths. While some received treatment at COVID-19 isolations centers, others were turned away without even testing for the virus. For a long time, testing was centralized and conducted exclusively by the Institute of Epidemiology, Disease Control and Research in the capital Dhaka, despite the fact that patients with symptoms were reported all over the country. Finally, on 22 March, Bangladesh declared a 10-day shut down effective from 26 March to 4 April, and later extended to 30 May.

Our Rotaract club with our sister clubs have been doing whatever we can to try and protect people from the virus and stop the spread. We encourage other Rotaract clubs to help their communities, by spreading information, encouraging mask usage where it is necessary, and working for the distribution of vaccines.

We can stop this virus just as we have been working to eradicate polio from the world. We are the people with the experience, determination, and dedication to do this. Thank you, Rotary world.

RCSA received three awards at the Rotary District 7020 Conference

Our club recently received three awards at the just concluded District conference held virtually from the Bahamas on May 29th and June 05th. The awards that we received are:

- ▶ The North Star Award for membership retention of 95%
- ▶ Golden Nugget award for inducting 6 new members
- ▶ District Certificate of Distinction

From the Desk of the DG

This month is a bittersweet time. I am excited to celebrate with our leadership team and our clubs on the progress throughout this year, but I am also nearing the moments where my time as Governor will cease. This month we have a number of important things we must accomplish.

PREPARE: This is a transition month. The incoming boards have been trained and are now planning in order to be able to execute on day one. Each Rotarian must confirm how they will participate in elevating the activity of the club in the next Rotary year. Ideas and inspiration are required for the needed innovation.

GIVE: The need is great, and we are inviting you to continue to give to The Rotary Foundation and to our quest to eradicate Polio. I am particularly pleased with our newest initiative being championed by District Treasurer, PAG Lindsey Cancino – The Polio Plus Society (Annual Donation of $100.00 until Polio is eradicated). We have a goal of 200 members by June 30th, 2021 and we are only half-way there. Please sign up and be counted.

PROTECT: – This is a time where clubs purge membership. I want clubs to place a hedge of protection around the club. Engage members and seek to assist as best you can to navigate any membership challenges. This has been a difficult year, and I appreciate that members may be battling through many issues. Although we have been tried and tested, we rose to the occasion.

COMPLETE: We have 30 more days in this Rotary year to maximize on opportunities and continue to be visible and relevant in our communities.

CELEBRATE: Recognize and acknowledge the efforts of the members and the clubs this year. Recalibrate for the year ahead. Enjoy the fellowship with other clubs and join in the many opportunities of fellowship around the District. In particular, we look forward to seeing you all at the District Conference and Awards Ceremony. It is my intention to host a District Governor's Soiree on June 29th, 2021. This is hoped to be a hybrid event at which I will present my final presentation to the District.

The journey continues.....

Finding meaning within a context of meaninglessness

by Webster Edwards

Sisyphus punishment was to repeatedly roll a large boulder up to the top of a mountain, only to see it rolling back down again.

He was condemned to struggle perpetually without any hope of achieving success.

This myth told by Albert Camus, French author and philosopher, attempted to put into sharp focus the human condition as a hopeless life of unrelenting labour and struggle.

For Camus, there is no reprieve from the repetition and drudgery of life, as we constantly seek clarity and meaning in a world that offers neither.

This is the picture of life and the experience of many, as they are constantly searching for meaning within a context of seeming meaninglessness.

But meaning can always be found in the process, accepting life as it is, while trying to make the best of our experiences.

It is here that faith sometimes intervene to rescue us, assuring us that all is not lost and that beyond the dark clouds of our experiences there is always a silver lining.
