EMBRACING A NEW ROTARY

By Kennedy Gayah, Rotaract Club of Nairobi Central, Kenya

Members of Rotary and Rotaract enjoy the comfort, love, and unity they experience during a club meeting, whether it be sharing a meal, enjoying a drink, or chatting with friends who have become like family. Our in-person meetings have been a principle means of connection. But COVID-19 has changed all that. We have been forced to be innovative, creative, and flexible to recreate the camaraderie of our clubs. This is a blessing in disguise.

As clubs embrace online meetings with excitement, we are establishing a new routine amid all this uncertainty. It is a time to think differently, act differently, and create a different impact.

For too long, members have had mixed feelings about club meetings. Good meetings were enjoyable and left us with a sense of accomplishment. Bad ones left us feeling we had wasted our time. Online meetings allow us a restart. They can provide an avenue to share and listen to the thoughts of all our members. They can avoid that troubling aspect of some in-person meetings where discussions were dominated by one person. (You're probably thinking about that person as you read this, or, you may be that person.)

Lessons learned

A key lesson my club has learned after two months of virtual meetings is that it opens room for deliberate brainstorming and effective knowledge sharing. This is made possible within the meeting itself or on the chat side. Collaboration appears to be easier and more effective in this online setting. It allows different members to openly engage, improving member involvement.

Online meetings also provides flexibility in meeting schedules. We no longer have to just meet over lunch or after-work. We can try a mix of both. Our clubs can keep accommodating the members who are comfortable with our current guidelines while attracting new ones who previously were not able to join us at the fixed meeting times and places. If we can flex how we meet, we can flex time for new members to grow our numbers.

We can also further improve our fundraising by use of digitized social fundraising and crowdfunding tools. This approach will help reach people beyond our own Rotary circles. We will also save on the cost of in-person meetings and travel, money we can use elsewhere to support our projects.

Honestly, not everyone will jump at the transformation online. This is not a call for us to change what we do forever, but rather an encouragement to expand how we do it. This is an opportunity to improve our operations and significantly grow our impact. Let's connect the world by opening opportunities.

THE SECRET TO INCREASING CLUB GIVING

By N.Bhaskaran Pillai, Rotary Club of Kalamassery, India

When I became treasurer of my club last year, I learned through Rotary Club Central that only 25 of our 39 members were Paul Harris Fellows (PHF). I also saw that our club had transferable Foundation Recognition Points that had been lying dormant for several years.

I saw an opportunity to rally our club around an effort to earn a 100% Paul Harris Club recognition using these points and collecting affordable contributions from members who were not yet PHF.

At our pre-year officers training seminar, I used the opportunity to share the idea of not only seeking the PHF recognition but also a 100% Rotary Foundation Giving Club recognition banner and an Every Rotarian, Every Year Club recognition banner. I hoped in doing so, we would encourage more members to become regular supporters of the Foundation.

Not everyone was as excited as I was, but our club president was supportive and offered to help. He gave me five minutes to speak at each meeting, and I used almost every one to talk about the many reasons we should give to the Foundation. That part was easy since I have a stockpile of at least 51 examples of the Foundation doing good work around the world.

Through December, our club focuses on raising money for local projects. But after that, I turned my focus to raising funds for the Foundation. I began contacting the non-PHF members to encourage giving. Three of the 14 had been PHFs with their previous clubs, so we just needed to get their credits transferred to our club.

Out of the remaining 11, I discovered that four never set up an account with the Foundation! One long-time member openly said he would never give to the Foundation, and that he only donates to our club funds. But when I explained how, through a global grant, we were pursuing a $100,000 project with only a small amount of club funds, he readily agreed to start giving.

In January, five members came forward with contributions and our club matched with recognition points. A regular contributor also agreed to transfer some of his unused recognition points, so our club didn't have to deplete all of ours. Our president was happy to come along with me as I visited the remaining non-PHF members at their homes and phoned another, winning them over with many convincing examples of the Foundation's impact and accountability.

First in the zone

On 5 March, we received official confirmation from Rotary International that we were a 100% Paul Harris Fellow Club, the first in our zone to earn this recognition this Rotary year and first in the District for almost two years. We

DOCTORS UNITE THROUGH THE ROTARY NETWORK

By Dr. John Philip, Chair of the International Fellowship of Rotarian Doctors

Many of our members are on the front line in the battle against the Covid-19 pandemic. As the International Fellowship of Rotarian Doctors, we decided to reach out to them, show support, share views and ideas to learn from each other.

We held two online 'round table' discussions attended by 30-35 members and guests from different parts of the world. During the first meeting, members from different countries – including the UK, US, Canada, Uganda, Nigeria, Malaysia, India and Mexico – exchanged views and shared experiences.

As the Chair of the Doctors Fellowship, I found it moving to hear stories of our members going the extra mile to look after seriously ill patients under challenging circumstances, often at personal risk. It was clear that many were burdened by shortages of personal protection and inadequate equipment. Some also commented about having to cope with social stigma and hostile responses to Covid-19 patients.

The second online round table discussion focused on two specific topics – end of life care and challenges of providing maternity care.

Health professionals are facing unprecedented difficulties during this pandemic. The number of deaths is overwhelming – in some units there is little time to get over one death before having to move on to care for another patient. Relatives are unprepared, almost always unable to offer love and care to sick family members and unable to receive comfort and support during bereavement.

Maternity care – especially in emergencies – expose attendant doctors and midwives to special risk. Anaesthesia, when needed, require special protective provisions. There are often practical problems in allowing partner's presence in the delivery room.

Many doctors are suffering under the strains of overwork and personal risk with little support. Our discussions reassured them that the whole Rotary world prides in their dedication and wishes them well. The International Fellowship of Rotarian Doctors is a multidisciplinary, international group. We are the natural home of all health professionals in Rotary and beyond.

Through these online meetings and email communications, we are now in contact with colleagues from different parts of the world. We hope that our network will grow, and we will be able to draw together grass root views and experiences at this time of global crisis.

Since these meetings, there have been increased discussions relating to treatment options. Other issues that were raised are – exit strategy, prevention, ethical considerations, digital technology (do's and don'ts) and collateral damage.

THE SECRET TO INCREASING CLUB GIVING CNT'D. FROM P9

were also able to earn the Every Rotarian, Every Year recognition, and the 100% Foundation Giving recognition.

Since the COVID-19 pandemic, clubs around the world have shifted to virtual meetings. This is an opportunity for clubs to use some of the savings on venue and meal costs to make contributions to the Disaster Response Fund, allowing the Foundation to support even more pandemic relief projects.

If you want to increase your club's giving, and even earn a recognition like 100% Paul Harris Fellow Club, talk to your members often about the reasons to give. Share how Foundation-funded grants allow us to do good in the world. Collect examples that your club or district have personally been involved in. And that is the secret to increasing giving.

TOP 10 WAYS YOU CAN BE AN EVERYDAY PEACEBUILDER

Get involved with Rotary's peacebuilding programs and activities and celebrate the International Day of Peace on 21 September.

- 1. Enroll in and complete the Rotary Positive Peace Academy, developed with the Institute for Economics and Peace, so you and your club members can learn how to build peace, address the underlying causes of conflict, and spread awareness of the concept of Positive Peace.
- 2. Read the Positive Peace club presentation and facilitator's guide and share the presentation with your club to start a conversation about how you can help promote peace.
- 3. Seek out any Rotary Peace Fellows who live or work in your district and invite them to speak at a club meeting about their experiences. To find Rotary Peace Fellows in your district reach out to your district alumni chair; if you need any further assistance, please contact alumni@ rotary.org
- Stay engaged with your local peace fellows they can often offer invaluable help to your club members on the planning and implementation of your club's next peacebuilding project.
- 5. Help recruit and endorse worthy candidates for the Rotary Peace Fellowship and consider joining your district Rotary Peace Fellowship subcommittee.
- 6. Encourage your district to become a Peacebuilder District, a program that lets you support a peace fellow through contributions from your district designated funds.
- 7. Screen a movie for your club and wider community, that focuses on peacebuilding or conflict prevention, and use it to start a conversation on how you can help promote peace.
- 8. Start an intercountry committee between your district and a district in another country to create fellowship and goodwill. Some of the most inspiring peacebuilding projects have come from intercountry committee relationships.
- 9. Organize a half-day or full-day Rotary district peace conference. Or consider hosting a breakout session on Positive Peace or the Rotary Peace Fellowship program during your district conference.
- 10. Invite your club members to join the Rotary Action Group for Peace (RAGFP), which supports Rotarians engaged in peacebuilding projects worldwide. Encourage your club to join the RAGFP Peacebuilder Club program, a program that promotes Positive Peace both locally and globally.

MOTIVATIONAL QUOTE "Searching hopelessly for a honest person"

By Webster Edwards

C Diogenes an early Greek philosopher dramatically illustrated the culture of dishonesty that pervades the world.

One clear day, Diogenes was walking up and down the market place in Athens, holding a lighted lantern high in front of him and peering around as if searching for something.

When people gaped and asked him what he was doing, he replied, "I am looking for an honest man."

Diogenes search was futile, as instead of honest persons, all he found were rascals and scoundrels. Is this true of the present context in Jamaica, that no one is completely honest? A recent research reveals that the average person tells at least three lies every day.

A businessman recently confided in me that dishonesty is taking a toll on his business as he is struggling to meet the cost of personal, internal and external security.

Today we must begin to change the picture or pay the ultimate price. We can begin by recognizing that the removal without permission of pens, and other inconsequential items from our places of employment is an act of dishonesty.

Honesty should always be regarded as the best policy, honesty in our thinking, honesty in the words that we speak and honesty in our daily activities.
