Meeting Notes: February 4, 2011 Bill Barrett – Production Manager, Isabel Bloom, LLC

Margo McInnis introduced Bill Barrett from Isabel Bloom and he in turn thanked Margo for bringing many tours to his facility every year. Margo highly recommended the tour, the best part being the discount you receive at the gift shop when the tour is over. Bill is a lifelong resident of the Quad Cities and worked at I.H.Farmall, Blackhawk College and Star Forms before becoming operations manager in 1996 for Isabel Bloom.

The Isabel Bloom workshop began in the Village of East Davenport with 35 employees. The space was cramped in that location. As the demand and interest in the work of Isabel expanded, bigger facilities were needed. They are currently located on Federal Street in Davenport, with gift shops at Northpark Mall, John Deere Commons, Valley Junction Mall in Des Moines and of course, the Village of East Davenport.

Bill admitted to the 59 members and guests present that the move to China for cheaper labor was not a good idea. He said that the products made in China were not made of concrete. The concrete was too costly to ship. The project was soon scrapped and all products are again made in Davenport, Iowa and he is proud of that fact! Special and limited edition items are created for events like Race for the Cure, Festival of Trees and Niabi Zoo. The most popular piece is the "Hugs". Since Isabel passed, several new finishes are available. A few are the original green, weathered bronze, vintage rose, garden moss rose and multicolored. A single piece takes 4 days to create. Some of the new finishes take a little longer. Lucky winners of the three Isabel Bloom goldfinches were: Steve Swisher, Ken Tank and John Maxwell.

The only guest present on Friday was Diana Messer, guest of Tom Messer. February birthdays were celebrated and $19 was collected for cake. John Maxwell was the sergeant again and collected $31 in fines. He asked Steve Suiter why he got stuck in Eldridge on Tuesday, during the snow storm. Steve wanted to thank the Mayor of Eldridge, for the city plow, getting him safely to the Quality Inn. Unfortunately, Mr. Mayor was absent.

A Chord Busters quartet gave the club a sample song that can be ordered for your favorite valentine. Order forms will still be available on Friday at the front table.
