Meeting Notes: Jennifer Rice
Scott County Jail Inmate Program

Jennifer Rice was quite excited to speak at Rotary, as it was nothing like she was expecting. You guys really do have a lot of fun, she said, partially due to the fact that Mr. Langan claimed to have just been released from jail that morning by the deputy that accompanied Jennifer. Eric had fun being the sergeant as he tried to get a rise out of the deputy. He collected $28 in fun fines, including fining Lori Rochau, as she forgot her notebook at Rotary the week before.

Jennifer works as a direct treatment supervisor to the inmates at the Scott County Jail. The new jail has seven nice, new classrooms to be used to educate the prisoners. She finds professionals to donate time and teach classes to obtain a GED and help with narcotics & substance abuse and domestic violence.

The three primary reasons people end up in jail are problems with money, drugs and/or relationships. 90 per cent of the female population in jail was sexually abused at a young age. Community Service assignments are available to the inmates at sentencing, but they have to ask. It costs $65.74 per day per inmate to keep them in the Scott County Jail.

Fifty seven members and guests attended on Friday. Visiting Rotarians were Duncan Cameron, Bettendorf Club and Doug Peterson, Iowa QC club. Prospective members Seth Porter and Marcia Brandt were also present, as well as our good buddy, Drake Fuller, grandson on Dick Cole.

John Maxwell sold sweet corn and fresh peaches and donated $114.50 to the club to get people excited about the corn boil. Bill Tubbs wanted members to know of the July 16 death of Richard Maehr, charter member of North Scott Rotary. He & his wife Helen retired to Texas in 1988 & had since relocated to Crestview, FL.
