This auspicious crew husked all of the corn that we enjoyed at this years Corn Boil.

208 members and guests consumed large quantities of corn, pork chops, tomatoes, cucumber and broccoli salad, and ice cream on desserts supplied by the many volunteers organized by Dr. Anita Wubbena.

This event, chaired by John Maxwell and worked on by half of the club is our annual summer event to see how much corn we can eat. Of course many beverages of all varieties were consumed also. Thanks to John and his crew for a great night.. Picture by NS Press

THIS FRIDAY AT THE STEEPLEGATE

Emily Shenk-DeMay

Manager, Corporate Administration/Executive Assistant Mississippi Valley Regional Blood Center

Emily Shenk-DeMay is a full-time working mom, that is passionate about family, community and her work. She is a native of Davenport, IA, graduate of Davenport West High School and graduate of Augustana College, with a BA in Vocal Music Performance.

Emily is the Manager, Corporate Administration/Executive Assistant of the Mississippi Valley Regional Blood Center, coordinating administrative support for the blood center, as well as oversight of MVRBC community supported events, fund development initiatives, executive support and board liaison. Emily is not only an employee of MVRBC, but also a blood donor and most importantly, a blood recipient. She is a huge advocate for the community blood program and is passionate about sharing her recipient story in the community.

Emily's love for community engagement stemmed from a trip to Africa that changed her life in 2004. She was on a career path to follow her dream in the music profession, but while in Namibia, her world was turned upside down and upon returning to the Quad Cities, she knew she needed to be part of something bigger than her herself and find a way to give back. The rest, as they say, is history.

Current community engagement includes: charter woman and steering committee member of Women United for United Way of the Quad Cities, member of Young Leaders United for United Way of the Quad Cities, board director for Lead(H)er, a non-profit focused on fueling careers and community engagement for women in the Quad Cities, board director for the Genesis Health Services Foundation, and Immediate Past President of the Iowa Quad Cities Rotary Club. Emily is also active in the local music scene and is a singing member of Nova Singers and serves as the Director of Worship at Davenport First Church of the Nazarene.

The North Scott Rotary Mississippi Mudder is a 5K mud run obstacle course filled with 30+ obstacles.

Run up and down hills, through pastures, woods, and rugged terrain. Climb over and under obstacles and finish with a creek you'll snake through in the last 1/3 mile!

All ages and levels of ability are welcome. The course is challenging and will test your endurance. Walkers are encouraged to participate and all obstacles are optional. Some obstacles may seem difficult while others are 'a piece of cake'. The Mississippi Mudder is great for team building—no experience necessary!
