North Scott Rotary Serves

Brian Ritter, newest member North Scott Rotary

Brian Ritter is the newest member of North Scott Rotary. He joined on January 25 and is sponsored by Becky Bray.

Brian is the Executive Director of Nahant Marsh for Eastern Iowa Community Colleges. He has been employed by EICC since 2002 and the director of Nahant since 2007.

Brian is excited to be a part of this club and is active on many other boards in the Quad Cities, including the Freight House Farmers Market.

He has a "small farm" raising goats and many fruits and vegetables. He also likes to hike, bike and travel. Please take time to Welcome Brian to NSR.

THIS FRIDAY AT THE STEEPLGATE

Dave Herrell

The Quad Cities Convention & Visitors Bureau (QCCVB) announced today that Dave Herrell, of Jacksonville, Fla., has been named their new President & CEO. Lynn Hunt, Vice President of Sales, has been serving in an interim role with the QCCVB and will support the incoming President & CEO during the transition.

Herrell comes to the Quad Cities after serving in management positions in Jacksonville, Phoenix, and Nashville. He has a background in destination and brand marketing, administration, operations, strategic planning, business development, fundraising, communications, and non-profit management. He will officially begin on October 8, 2018.

Before joining the Quad Cities Convention & Visitors Bureau, Herrell led the City of Jacksonville's Office of Sports & Entertainment as their Sports & Entertainment Officer. The department is comprised of Sports, the Office of Special Events, the Film & Television Office and the city's public access venues. A Mayoral appointee, he served as the city's senior-level liaison with professional sports franchises, JAXSPORTS Council, University of Florida, University of Georgia, local universities, Mayor Marty O'Boyle with Chuck Long, record holding Iowa Quarterback.

Chuck visited and talked to us at North Scott Rotary, and then had a question and answer and book signing.

Friday's speaker was Chuck Long, former University of Iowa football player and coach. He was the starting QB for Hayden Fry 1981-1985. He was born in Oklahoma, but was raised in Wheaton, IL. He led his high team to the 1979 state football title and gathered all state honors in 1980. He told many unique stories about his experiences playing for University of Iowa, being recruited upon graduation by the Detroit Lions, and later coaching at the University of Oklahoma, San Diego State and the University of Kansas. He currently is the CEO of the Iowa Sports Foundation. A recently published book Destined for Greatness, authored by Aaron Putze, was available to purchase at the end of the meeting.

Foundation Minute

Joi Burton, a member of the Rotary Club of North Garland County, Arkansas proves how a small club can make a difference in the world. Through Rotary, Joi experienced a great love for the country of Kenya, and after her first visit she was invited by a friend to live a few weeks in a village a day's drive from the Nairobi airport. Before she left, the Rotary Club of Arlington South gave her $500 to do a project in the village that was comprised of a few houses, several huts, a school and a church – no electricity, no water and was located several miles from the nearest road.

The day after she arrived she told Moses, the man that accompanied her, that she had a "little bit of money" from her club and asked if there was something they needed. He told her they needed concrete to replace the floors in the school as the children were getting their uniforms dirty from having to sit on the floor all day. She and Moses went to the nearest town and purchased gravel, sand, and cement – the villagers then completed the floors in all the rooms.

The next week, she again told Moses that she had a "little bit of money" and asked if there was anything else they needed. They needed glass to replace the broken windows in the school. She and Moses bought large plates of glass and were able to place windows in the entire school. The following week, she again told Moses that she had a "little bit of money" left – what else do they need? They then purchased metal paint and brushes to paint the rusted tin roof. And with a little more of that money left – they were able to make ladders with sticks and rope to paint the roof! And on the last week that Joi stayed – she still had "a little money left" where they purchased school books and two cases of chalk! They were completely out of chalk.

This experience built the foundation for other efforts including global grants for wells. What a difference one small Rotary club can make with a little bit on money.

LAST WEEK

LAST WEEK – January 25, 2019 – Chuck Long; CEO Iowa Sports Foundation

Sixty-four attended on Friday. Guests were Dick Kleine from Davenport Rotary. Other guests were Joan Maxwell, guest of John Maxwell, Chase Cournoyer, guest of Chris Cournoyer, Scott Rochau, guest of Lori Rochau, Greg Cotton, guest of Kim Wilkins and Haley Fox, guest of Kelly Meyer.

Brian Ritter is the newest member of North Scott Rotary. (See the front page). Josie Seymour told about the Valentine celebration on February 15 and asked for members to sign up, so the Social Committee knows how many to plan for. Jeff Ashcraft is excited for the Tryke Build on February 9 and says a few more volunteers are needed. The community needs and impact grant chairs met and the due dates for this year's applications will be March 22. Jeff Martens will help with the public relations for these grants.

Ken Tank gave $20 for the exciting news of birth of a new great grandson. Donn Wilmott thanked the members who supported the University of Iowa Danceathon that his daughter and son-in-law were part of. John Maxwell was the sergeant and collected $30 in fines.
