JANUARY 5: SECRETARY OF STATE PAUL PATE

Eighty at our first meeting of 2024

By Bill Tubbs/Volunteer Editor

Jan. 5, 2023: Sixty-eight members and 12 guests rang in the new year at the Steeplegate Inn with president Tracy Lindaman presiding, Marguerite Holzworth providing piano music and Jody Johnston-Mohr leading singing of "America the Beautiful," "Welcome Song" and "R-O-T-A-R-Y." In her reflection, Deanna Jensen-Valliere said she's grateful for the human race and human rights. "Send love to the world and make it better!" We sang Happy Birthday for January birthdays, and president Tracy gave a small gift to Marguerite in appreciation of her piano playing. Secretary Tony Knobbe introduced Visiting Rotarians and guests: Carmen Galvin, John Baker and Bob Scheer (guests of Rich Pokora); Pete Perez (guest of Chris Cournoyer), Grace Merschman (guest of Tom Messer), Sara with Braking Traffic and D6420 RAGAS member guests of Deanna Jensen-Valliere, Shasha Grunwald (age 4, with Ardita Grunwald), speaker Paul Pate and two assistants. Joining by Zoom were Sara Somsy, Jan Touney, Dwayne Anderson, Steve Suiter and Lynn Olds and Melanie Whitmere (invited by Deanna).

Announcements

President Tracy thanked those who assisted with "Pay It Forward" yesterday at Neil Armstrong Elementary, Park View and asked Stephanie Eckhardt to comment. Fifty students and six service club members heard Heather Jaques, from DeWitt, tell what it meant to stay 60 nights at the Ronald McDonald House in Iowa City while her premature baby was at University of Iowa Hospital. Students wrote letters and assembly care kits for persons staying at the Ronald McDonald House, on behalf of Rotary. See photos, pages 6-7.

Tyler Bindrum said spots are still available for volunteers to be a "Big for a Day" on Jan. 10 with Big Brother/Big Sisters over the noon hour on Wednesday, Jan. 10. See signups on page 5.

Kelly Meyer announced East Area Basketball Skills will be Saturday, Jan. 20, at North Scott Junior High. Rotarians, as we have for decades, will assist 50-plus athletes in the basketball skills competition in the morning. The start time will be after 9:30 a.m. This is an opportunity for red badge members to fulfill their service project expectation.

Pat Olsen first said he joins Rotarian Michigan fans Dr. Diane Papke-Cole and Eric Langan pulling for the Wolverines in Monday's NCAA football championship. His message, however, is that Rotarians serving luncheons for the Davenport Poice officers will resume, 11:30-12:30, food from Mama's Parlor sponsored by Sean and Stephanie Eckhardt.

Personals

Deanna Jensen-Valliere thanked the county board and Eldridge City Council for approving proclamations this week for Human Trafficking Prevention Month.

Bill Tubbs thanked members for their prayers. "It means a lot." The update of his week at UW Hospitals and Clinics was in The North Scott Press. "Angels are everywhere!"

Sergeant-at-arms Dr. Brad Burt raised 90 with fun fines, including Bill Tubbs. "Even cheating death, you find a way to sell papers!" Iowa fans were fined $1 for scoring no points their last two games. Jeff Helms will be off to Arizona shortly where he will connect with Merle Anderson and Pat DeLuca. Great to see Brian Ritter, Seth Porter and Eric Langan! President Tracy is awaiting the birth of a grandson.

IBAT, Safe at Home combat trafficking

Program

Chris Cournoyer introduced Iowa Secretary of State Paul Pate. "He runs good elections," she said, and is presenting Carrie Chapman Catt awards to high schools who register 90 percent of their eligible students to vote. Thanks to Jan Touney for program notes.

By Jan Touney

"Everybody should be safe."

That was the unequivocal message that Iowa Secretary of State Paul Pate brought to North Scott Rotarians on Friday, Jan. 5.

And it's the reason, he says, that he is so passionate about two growing programs his office administers – Iowa Businesses Against Trafficking (IBAT) and Safe At Home.

IBAT was launched in 2022. It empowers businesses to help in the fight to end human trafficking through trainings and outreach opportunities. It has grown to involve 700 businesses and thousands of employees, and Pate on Friday encouraged North Scott Rotarians to get involved.

"Learn something and do something," was one message in a short video he shared about the IBAT program.

"Learn something" encompasses educating employees, customers and industry partners on the signs and impact of human trafficking in Iowa. "Do something" empowers businesses to help share facts, tips and action items that others can take against human trafficking.

Pate said it makes logistical sense for his office to become involved because of the interaction it has with the more than 250,000 businesses in Iowa.

"It's a natural army of people we can identify and motivate," he said. "We are not asking businesses to become the police but to act as the eyes and ears."

Businesses which complete a short application process will receive a certificate and a window decal indicating they are part of the IBAT program. Gasoline/convenience stores like Casey's and Kum and Go located on major interstate highways put stickers in the bathrooms alerting people to the signs of human trafficking. In one case Pate cited, a victim alerted Casey's employees to her situation while the trafficker was putting gas in his vehicle. The employees hid the woman and called law enforcement.

As North Scott Rotarians have learned from prior presentations and from the work of Vice President Deanna Jensen-Valliere, human trafficking takes many forms, including sex trafficking and labor trafficking. Its victims are of all ages and come from all backgrounds and communities. Traffickers prey on runaways, watching kids at shopping malls, big sporting events and conventions, and keeping track of people coming out of prison.

"Human trafficking can happen to anyone," Pate said. "This is something we can literally do something about." He encouraged Rotarians to become familiar with the signs of human trafficking, such as unusual behavior, seeing cars coming and going in a residential area, witnessing someone who needs help. He showed a three-step SOS hand signal that victims use to indicate they are in trouble. A wealth of information is available on the IBAT website at www.ibat.iowa.gov.

Another program run by Pate's office that assists victims is Safe at Home, an address confidentiality program that provides participants with a substitute address, mail forwarding service and confidential voter registration and absentee voting. Its aim is to prevent participants' addresses from appearing on public records.

Pate introduced Deputy Secretary of State Christy Johnson, who spoke Friday about this program and said there are now more than 1,300 participants.

trafficking, stalking and assault, she said it has since been expanded to prosecuting attorneys, members of the judiciary and law enforcement personnel.

“They can be active without fear of being found,” she said.

An application to be a part of the program and more information can be found online at www.safeathome@iowa.gov.

At the beginning of his presentation, Pate spoke briefly about the upcoming political caucuses. And while his office does not oversee the caucuses (the political parties do), he said they get a lot of questions.

“If you haven’t met a candidate for president, you must have been in a cave,” he said. “They’ve been everywhere.” The Republican is in his fourth term as Iowa’s Commissioner of Elections. Under his leadership, Iowa has become one of the top three states in the nation for election administration.

President Tracy closed the meeting with members reciting the Rotary Four-Way Test of the things we Think, Say or Do.

The Object of Rotary

The Object of Rotary is to encourage and foster the ideal of service as a basis of worthy enterprise and, in particular, to encourage and foster:

- FIRST: The development of acquaintance as an opportunity for service;
- SECOND: High ethical standards in business and professions; the recognition of the worthiness of all useful occupations; and the dignifying of each Rotarian's occupation as an opportunity to serve society;
- THIRD: The application of the ideal of service in each Rotarian's personal, business, and community life;
- FOURTH: The advancement of international understanding, goodwill, and peace through a world fellowship of business and professional persons united in the ideal of service.
