Rotary Global History Day

by Dave Moore

Rotary Global History Day was created by Rotary Global History Fellowship \(RGHF\) to bring attention to the vital role that history plays in preserving Rotary. RGHF "Seeks to serve Rotarians, present and future, by preserving the Global History of Rotary"

A club has a history worth writing even before the charter is granted. The writing of our own Rotary Global History, before it's forgotten, will help to bring in new members and keep the charter members in touch with those wonderful memories of how this all began. The same is true for all Rotary Global History. Stories told that ring the message of how we became this force for world peace and understanding. At www.11october.org, Rotary historians have tips on creating a club history. We are well advised to do it now while members can still remember the beginnings of our club. It will help us grow the club membership by better knowing knowing who we are!

RGHF zone board members are reaching out to districts and clubs to further this effort. You might consider joining at www.joinrghf.org.

March is Literacy Month

by Dave Moore

Letter from RI President D.K. Lee

Dear fellow Rotarians:

We have long supported literacy and education for all. Our projects have strengthened schools, built community libraries, and given the precious gift of reading and writing to those in need.

As we celebrate Literacy Month this March, we are confronted by the monumental challenge of helping nearly a billion people experience the essential pleasure and power of reading and writing. Without these fundamental skills, too many of our friends and neighbors will remain trapped by poverty, hunger and disease.

Over the last year, we have renewed our relationship with the International Reading Association, allowing Rotary clubs to benefit from the experience of local and international literacy professionals. In addition, The Dollywood Foundation, our newest literacy ally, is working with Rotary clubs across North America and the United Kingdom to support early childhood literacy through its Imagination Library program.

While these relationships heighten the effectiveness and impact of our projects, little would be possible without your active support for literacy. Your contributions are significant, and I urge you to renew your commitment to this vital effort. Our success depends on careful planning. As business, professional, and community leaders, we must pause to consider what more our clubs and districts can do to support literacy in the months and years ahead. We must invest in strong champions for literacy in our communities, including our own club and district literacy chairs, to strengthen and lead our literacy efforts. Together we can stop illiteracy and help Make Dreams Real for our friends and neighbors in need.

Sincerely,

D. K. Lee

President, Rotary International, 2008-09
