Announcements

Doug Talmage announced that October 24 is World Polio Day. End Polio NOW. Read the profiles in the latest Rotarian magazine.

Doug also reminded new members that when visiting other clubs, they should consider taking a Miamisburg Rotary banner to exchange with the club president. See Doug for more details.

Jeff Nestor said Kelsey Whipp asked him to announce Miamisburg Parks and Recs participation in Make a Difference Day. Come out and help clean up Community Park – across the street from Jeff's office.

Eric Flasher passed around a sign-up sheet for the Halloween party on Saturday, October 19, at Star City Brewery.

Meeting Notes

Doug Talmage opened the October 9 meeting of Rotary Club of Miamisburg at the Baum. He greeted 35 members to the "friendliest club in the universe."

Program

Perfect Attendance Awards

The program started with Keith Basinger's presentation about Rotary's emphasis on meeting attendance. He reviewed Miamisburg Rotary's rules. Why is it important? How can you make up if you miss?

Then Dan Price expounded on the virtues of perfect attendance. Continuous weekly participation strengthens the club and fortifies the motto – service above self.

With the help of Sgt. at Arms, Josh Liles, Dan presented year award dongles to the recipients of our club's latest Rotary perfect attendance members.

Happy Dollars

Jan Runkle is on a whirlwind tour in October. First to New York City, then Columbus, OH, then Buffalo, NY, then a visit with her sister. It never stops spinning.

Phil Callahan will babysit his toddler granddaughter all by himself for the first time on Monday. Excellent.

Doug Barry's son came home for the first time since leaving for UK in August. And Doug is happy for another week of blissful marriage.

Ron Smith was happy for his wife, Roxanne's birthday.

Paul Schultz was happy for wife Loueda's 91st birthday – she is recuperating. Also, glad to have Carolyn Kilpatrick sitting at his table for lunch.

Jim DeYoung was happy to point out his Rotary colored outfit (blue and gold) --- Go Michigan.

Happy Dollars

Jeff Nestor was happy that Shon Myers has agreed, once again, to take charge of Pancake Day corporate sponsorship recruitment. Thank you, Shon. Jeff also recognized Melinda Moore for participation in the blood drive last week at Our Lady of Good Hope.

Keith Basinger - Go Buckeyes. Headed to Florida for a few days.

Brent Ashcraft was $3 happy – he missed two weeks but he was able to complete EPIC software training for his office.

Justin Kohnen used a mean pun. So – so.

Jeanne Sizemore was happy that the Tutu Many cancer awareness walk/event raised over $9,500. She also will be out next week to go to Florida.

Karen Euse celebrating retirement after 43 years --- CONGRATULATIONS.

Shon Myers mentioned how the game of golf will keep you humble. One extraordinary round was followed by a swing and a miss. Ahhhhh – for the love of the game.
