The Honorable Richard Church, Mayor of Miamisburg

Dick Church shared stories of being the Mayor of Miamisburg for the last 25 years. A little known fact is that the name of the city is very unique. In fact, there is no other place on this earth named Miamisburg.

Over the years, Mayor Church has worked tirelessly for the citizens of Miamisburg. His tenure did not start out well. Before he was even sworn in, the Department of Energy announced that the Mound Facility, Miamisburg's largest employer was shutting down. Over the next 20 years, Mayor Church lead an effort to clean up the Mound Site which required $1.1 Billion and the next 20 years to complete. Today it is a thriving Business Park, instead of the toxic dump it could have been without Dick's leadership.

HAPPY DOLLARS

Kurt Stueve had a happy dollar for his 59th birthday and one for his son having the privilege or ringing the opening bell for the stock market.

Rick Melton had a great trip to Lake Michigan and returned to Ohio (The Heart of it All!) to spend a day with his son at the Ohio State Game.

Bill Skudlarek had $3 dollars for missing the next 3 weeks to vacation in Hawaii.

Keith Basinger had a dollar in support of the Buckeyes against the Badgers.

Al Scott had a dollar: my oh my what was the message?

Bob Kilpatrick noted that Warren Buffet made more money in a month than a startup going public.

Barry Barnhart had a happy dollar for Charlie Doll and his wife who welcomed a new baby boy into their life.

Celebrations!
