ANNOUNCEMENTS

Fundraising Chair, Brian Yeakley reminded everyone of Pancake Day the first Saturday in December. He promised he would distribute tickets to members on November 7.

Brian also announced the date for the 2019 Esther Philhower Rotary Auction - April 27. Can't wait.

Shon Myers announced a Miamisburg Community Foundation introductory kickoff event for interested supporters. Tickets are $100. This soiree will take place in a private residence and will acquaint attendees with the mission of the new foundation. See Shon.

Kelsey Whipp reminded us of the last major event of the 2018 Miamisburg Bicentennial is the Holiday parade and festival. All Miamisburg Rotarians are encouraged to participate.

Kelsey also said $225 Glice Rink sponsorships are still available. Expose your message to over 50,000 visitors to Riverfront Park – the biggest anticipated crowd is the Turkey Trot registration and race.

Program

Gail Wagner of CPAM Children’s Performing Arts of Miamisburg introduced Casey Epstein to present the program.

Casey invited everyone to attend this season’s musical – Bye Bye Birdie. The show ran two weekends – October 27-28 and November 2-4 at Memorial Auditorium.

The male lead in the play is a senior at Dayton Christian. He performed an uplifting version of “Put on a happy face” from the show and engaged members of the club while meandering through tables.

Happy Dollars and Fines

Eric Flasher was happy about his recent trip to St. Louis to visit his wife’s cousin. He was able to see the Arch where as a young boy he saw the beginning of construction for the world’s largest croquette mallet in East St. Louis.

Rick Melton was happy to have attended the Centerville Rotary Pancake day. He likes our ham better than their sausage? He also had a scooter $.

Kelsey Whipp had two happy $ – one that Dan Price is always willing to help and a big Happy Halloween.

Dick Church said this was a year of records for him – he has been mayor for 27 years and he had six wedding scheduled for the afternoon. That’s a lot of spooky vows.

Eric Cluxton said after several weeks of waiting, the Mound’s Building T is finally sold.

Angie Engelke had many happy $$. A scooter $, happy Florida trip $, a CROP $ for Elise’s help on Master’s open house, and Happy HALLOWEEN.

Lori Gatland gave a scooter dollar.

Jane Schneider gave a scooter dollar.

Elise was happy that she attended the South Dayton Chamber's annual award meeting where Miamisburg Rotarians, Dick Church and Dave Vail, were singled out for their respective achievements.

Bill Skudlarek gave a couple of happy dollars – one CROP dollar for Jim Dunn always being a great supporter of the military, and one because it was less than a week before Bill's surgery to repair the hitch in his get-a-long.

Keith Basinger had a GO BUCKS buck.

Bob Adams is happy that basketball season is starting.

Gail Wagner (CPAM) gave $5 because she is happy to have presented the program to the club several years in a row. She is stepping aside this year to free up time to help Dayton Christian's band boosters.
