Program

=+==+==+==+==+

Sally Moyer is a Miamisburg School system social worker. She began 19 years ago working to abate the truancy problems.

She found that those attendance issues revolved around trouble at home and homelessness issues.

Along the way, Sally helped create a community connections fund. This fund has helped hundreds of students with school supplies, winter coats, shoes, sporting fees, band instruments, and eye glasses.

She works with the school system and other local organizations to help over 250 families at Christmas.

The other major effort is Blessings in a Bag where approximately 700 students take home food in a bag each Friday for the weekend.

Additionally, she has worked with Rotarian, Judy McCartney forming a community collaboration for the homeless.

Great work being done right here in the 'burg.

Happy Dollars

Valerie White - $5 happy that F&M Bank took care of a fraud issue without question.

Shon Myers = Moving the bank up the list from here (83rd) is a tough goal to reach.

Ted Fink = $2 happy really! Going to Alabama to spend four hours watching his granddaughter's dance recital.

Elise Hafenbrack - $3 happy expecting a second grandson. Son Josh in D.C. getting married. And her left knee is on the way to mend.

Jeanne Sizemore happy that school is out.

Bill Skudlarek happy for his Disney trip. His niece graduating and also his grandson or godson graduating from Miamisburg High School.

Shon had 4 tickets up for grabs to the Dragons' game.

Someone gave a happy $ for F&M accolades.

Jane Schneider gave $1 scooter for Keith Basinger. Also CROP dollar for Angie E. and Eric F. for the great parade they organized.

Happy Dollars

Brent Ashcraft $4 happy to visit Charleston for his mom's 83rd birthday. He took the Tesla for a road trip. He returned through Cincinnati and saw his daughter. And his practice is melding with Kettering Health Network.

Angie Engelke was happy for the water tower being painted.

Paul Schultz said 22 years ago at Rotary lunch at Alex's on 725 he introduced his four-month-old granddaughter. This month she graduated from college with an engineering degree and several job offers.

Barry had a hopeful dollar that his Achilles surgery will go well.

Jeff Nestor had $2 for the great job at Spring Fest – Kelsey and Devon and Danielle.

Al Scott was happy to go fishing in Columbus and trip to Tennessee to see his grandkids.

Mandy Askins was happy for her kids' last day of school.
