ANNOUNCEMENTS

President Brian was in search of someone to fill the assistant secretary role to take notes at the club board of director's meeting. Josh Liles nominated Dan Price who was then unanimously approved. Congratulations, Dan.

Melinda Moore once again called for volunteers to put the finishing touches on the Rotary Bicentennial parade float. Stuffing and gluing tissue paper is the only skill required.

Angie Engelke reported 130 units are registered for the opening Bicentennial parade and another 103 for the closing parade. Volunteer to help or just come to watch – both are worthwhile.

Elise Hafenbrack is promoting the Miamisburg High School Alumni Golf Outing to be held Friday, July 27. See Elise or visit Miamisburghighschoolalumni.com.

Jane Schneider pointed out the Masters of Golf print that is being raffled. See Jane.

Jeff Nestor once again said businesses can have a free space at Bicentennial – at this point bring your own table and awning. Tuesday, June 19 – Business day.

Eric Flasher promoted A Night With Mark Twain, also on Tuesday the 19th. $5 tickets are a great deal. Also, a reminder about the Sportsman's raffle.

Jeff Nestor – gave a reminder about Rockin' Green Potato festival happening downtown. Good music - good food.

The Program – Growing Up In The ‘Burg

Sergeant-at-Arms (and Miamisburg Bicentennial Co-Czar), Kurt Stueve, presented the day’s program – two weeks in a row sharing his wisdom with the club. This was Kurt’s first back-to-back of weekly programs since the great Group Study Exchange fiasco of 2008.

Having grown up in Miamisburg, Kurt shared stories of home life in the neighborhood behind Mound Elementary and Mound Golf course.

His coming of age stories about vandalizing the first green at the course and painting graffiti on the roof of his family Ford dealership resonated with a home spun realism that almost made them believable. A true taste of growing up in Miamisburg. Thanks, (PeeWee) Kurt.

HAPPY DOLLARS & FINES

Ted Fink was happy to have spent a weekend with his granddaughter. Also, acting in his capacity as former prosecutor and judge, he had a fine proposal dollar. He presented a piece of trash belonging to Niraj Antani S evidence that Ted and Niels found during the Rotary Highway cleanup.

Dan Price was happy to have his daughter, Emily, visiting as his guest.

Barry Barnhart gave a happy birthday dollar for his mother’s 85th birthday.

Judy McCarthy announced Jan Runkle’s scooter dollar and she was thankful for something ??

Keith Basinger is happy that his recently graduated son was accepted/hired as a research assistant at OSU. Congrats.

Lori Gatland was happy she is celebrating 37 years at work. Whooo hoo.

Jen Hampton-Montavan gave a forgotten badge dollar and a happy dollar about kids moving in.

Brent was grateful for the successful highway cleanup project especially for Paul Schultz's participation.

Jim DeYoung gave two handfuls of dollars to cover the Cog Log inadvertent error overestimating his happy Rotary Anniversary dollars from last week. Thanks, Jim.

President Brian self-fined for missing the highway cleanup. He was happy to spend time with his niece and brother at Dave Matthews concert. Mixed emotion dollar – missing his wife and daughter who are in Hilton Head for the week.

Celebrations!
