A: Rotary International's "World Polio Day"

Program

Lance Schneider - Head Coach
Miamisburg High School Football

Long lineage in Miamisburg sports.
Grandfather and father both head football coaches at Miamisburg.

Coach Schneider emphasized his coaching philosophy involves not only development of student athletes, but also helping students grow into responsible young adults.

He pointed out the team's recent participation in community events
like installing sod at the new dog
park, helping at the alumni dance,
and future involvement in the golf outing.

Coach described several of his promising players whom he has high expectations of.

He said if we come to watch them,
we can expect to see a high-
powered run / pass option offense
that is exciting to watch.

Happy Dollars

Eric Flasher - $5 for National Night Out, he has a new pickup truck and he's selling his old Suburban, and one year ago he adopted the feral cats that are now house broken and domesticated.

Jan Runkle had a happy $1 for her visit to Iceland.

Al Scott Was $2 glad to be back. He was married on July 27. He has an office sized refrigerator available to the first taker and he paid a fine for begin late to his greeter duties.

Paul Schultz was sad that his friend Dale Schram (sp?) of the community chorus lost a son recently.

Angie Engleke had a scooter dollar and one for an upcoming trip to Denver.

Michelle Collins had a great trip to DC to see John. There she attended the 74th Annapolis Crab Fest sponsored by Rotary at the Naval Academy. They had a great time and gathered some fundraising tips from Rotarians.

Dave Vail $5 – last meeting of teachers before the school year starts. Jason Shade was here and bypassed lunch duty. The first day of school is soon. And glad to have Coach Schneider as the program.

Rich Gulling missed last week and back to school rush is on.

Ted Fink - $5 back in Ohio gone since June. Happy for his long-time connection to the Schneider coaching heritage.

Barry Barnhart is happy to be standing on his own two feet. Acknowledging the Sycamore Hospital wound clinic.

Bill Skudlarek $10 happy to finally be presiding. Fun times during his Alaska journey.
