ANNOUNCEMENTS

Eric Cluxton announced he was giving a tour of Building T at the Mound. This is the 125,000 sq. ft. underground bunker - a top secret facility during the Cold War with 15 foot concrete walls. Note: Five club members took the tour and were astonished at its size and structure. Thanks, Eric, for sharing a piece of this local phenomenon.

Ted Fink encourage everyone to visit and learn about West Carrollton YMCA which offers great health style options for people of every age.

Tom Nicholas and the club nominating committee - Kurt Stueve, Phil Callahan, Tom Croskey, and he is starting to recruit club members to serve on the Rotary Board. The time to create the ballot is approaching. Please consider your involvement on that board level if someone asks you to run.

Barry Barnhardt reminded us that MHS home football tickets and a parking are available to members on a first come first served basis. Two pairs of two tickets for each game.

President Jeff asked anyone who has not paid their dues or lunch fees to please see Barry.

Rotary Trivia:

Q: Name four board positions in the chain of Miamisburg Rotary president?

A: V.P.-dir. club service, pres-elect, club president, and pp-fundraising chair.

Program

Bill Skudlarek introduced the guest speaker from Centerville Rotary.

Ron Hollenbeck, the 2016-17 President of Centerville Rotary presented the program for the meeting.

Ron educated those in attendance with details of Centerville's involvement in a Rotary water pump project in Haiti. This project includes application for both District grants and Rotary International Global grant applications.

He showed slides and graphics about his recent trip to Haiti to help drill, assemble, and install a 400-foot-deep water pump system. The chosen system is a LifePump system, distributed through Design Outreach in Columbus.

Without the help of Rotary, several communities in Haiti would be without a source of water other than walking long distances and carrying water from a river in rudimentary containers.

Happy Dollars and Fines

Ted Fink was happy because he had dinner this week with their neighbors who lived across the street in North Dakota and then dinner with their neighbors who lived across the street in Montgomery, AL.

Rich Gulling gave a happy dollar for going to the Toledo versus Miami game.

Jim Dunn was happy that the headliner for the Miami Valley Bluegrass festival is a friend he grew up with (both grade school and high school) in West Virginia.

Shon Myers was happy his wife and he are both celebrating their milestone birthdays with tickets to hear Andreas Bocelli.

Angie Engelke was happy that the Bengals won and the Steelers didn't.

Josh Liles was happy that his alma mater, Eastern Michigan, beat Purdue.

Doug Talmadge was happy to be travelling to San Diego for Bills vs Chargers game.

Happy $$ continued

Bill Skudlarek was three dollars' worth of happy, he was the greeter, a birthday dollar, and an upcoming trip to the Kentucky Bourbon Trail.

Ron Hollenbeck. from Centerville was happy to be presenting the day's program.

Jim DeYoung fined himself for forgetting his badge and was happy to chant GO BLUE.

Kurt was happy to say Alter has always been a rivalry of Carroll, CJ, Fairmont but especially of Centerville.

Doug Barry gave $5 to catch up on his happy marriage dollars this month.

Al Scott was $10 happy because he attended the Alabama concert at the Rose and was able to go to TJ Chumps which is adjacent. He is also happy because his shoulder Rotary cuff is healing.

Wally Sackett is happy he has a tee time at St. Andrew's Castle course – and his first grand daughter just turned one year old.

Jeff Nestor gave $5 for his smooth (so far) transition to club president. He thanked everyone for making it happen.

Lori Gatland gave two happy dollars – she is also going on the Bourbon Trail next weekend, and she is celebrating an anniversary.
