THIS WEEK'S PROGRAM: Alzheimer's Association – Care, Support, Research

By: Jackie Farrar

Interview by Rem Sprague

Speakers: Susan Evans & Jean Arnest

Click here to watch the entire interview.

Alzheimer's disease is the most common cause of dementia. Individuals experience loss of memory, reasoning, and other types of thinking. There are several types of dementia such as Lewy Body Dementia, Vascular Dementia, and Frontotemporal Dementia.

Susan Evans

Alzheimer's is a degenerative brain disease; it's characterized by brain cell damage and brain cell loss. This is a progressive brain disease, it is fatal, there is no cure, no way to prevent it, or reverse the damage. Until recently there was no way to slow the progression of this disease.

More than 6 million Americans are living with the disease.

The Alzheimer's Association, Michigan Great Lakes Chapter serves the entire State of Michigan. They provide care and support to individuals with dementia and their caregivers. Care and support include educational programs, wellness, volunteer-led support groups, a 24-hour care and support helpline 1-800-272-3900 seven days a week, and email with a chat option is available from 7:00am to 9:00pm seven days a week at helplinegmc@alz.org.

The Alzheimer's Association is driven by their mission to lead the way to end Alzheimer's and other dementia - by accelerating global research, driving risk reduction, and maximizing our quality care and support.

Jean Arnest

The Alzheimer's Association continues to collaborate to end Alzheimer's Disease and support people as they're living with it. On June 7th the first treatment for Alzheimer's was passed. The food and drug administration's accelerated approval of the drug called Aducanumab, the brand name is Aduhelm. This drug is not a cure but a turning point for treatment and research.

One in three seniors dies with Alzheimer's or another dementia

There are two more potential treatments in the pipeline in phase three. This drug could mean more time for people to participate in their daily life, have sustained independence, hold on to memories longer, and be with family for longer periods. This drug gives people a chance and a choice for an option they did not have before.

Alzheimer's kills more than breast cancer and prostate cancer combined.

Trivia Question

Q: What was the first Rotary Club community project?

A: A "comfort station" in downtown Chicago in 1907. Public restrooms were typically found only in saloons at that time, and unaccompanied women were not permitted to enter saloons.
