Caroline gave a brief history of the program which had its origins some 7 years ago with Bruno Callori working with students from 2 schools. The program has grown to now include 4 schools and continues with the valued support of local MP, Lisa Neville and the Bendigo Bank

Jill Shallas then gave an update on what previous students have been up to and how many of them continue to have art as a strong influence on their lives.

Three of this years students, Eliza, Hannah and Ella then outlined what they had gained from their work with Jill during the year.

The girls all brought along their portfolios which were the subject of much interest from the club members
