HAVE YOU EVER WANTED TO BE ON A GAME SHOW?

Barbara Noyes shared her expertise on becoming a game show participant. She has been on Family Feud, Wheel of Fortune, Trump Card, Who wants to be a Millionaire, Jeopardy and Cash Cab.

Barbara shared tips on how to get on. First, watch the shows. Then take the written test and pass. Next step is a personal interview. They are looking for you to be yourself, only bigger. Have a positive attitude and energy at all times. Have good stories to tell. Dress Appropriately. Be patient. Have lots of enthusiasm.

Barbara was on the waiting list for Jeopardy for seven years however many show only keep you in their pool for a year and a half. Continue to call the networks to make sure you are still in the pool. This shows interest and determination.

Prepare by playing games on line. Use the Internet to find sites and message boards. Find information out about game shows on line.

Guess what! They don't have to pay you if they don't put your take on the air. Also, you can refuse gifts if you don't want them because you must pay taxes on your winnings.

Pat Sajak, Alex Trebeck and Vanna White have the best jobs in the world. They work four days a month and tape five shows each day.
