Eleven Rotarians and two guests attended the meeting on January 14, 2020. Our two guests were his wife, Christy and his younger daughter. We learned later why they joined us. Susan Ezrati apologized for failing to schedule a speaker host and Rob Latimer started the meeting with the pledge, the 4-Way test and a blessing by Jonah Triebwasser. Breakfast was taken with lots of conversation and then, Rob suggested that we used the Happy $ collection process to share what we have been up to.

Rob led off with the announcement that as of now he is retired from his Emergency Medical activities at Northern Dutchess Hospital. Clearly pleased with this life transition he accepted the club's congratulations. (This was the reason his family joined him.)

Rob and Jen announced that a pre-PETS activity would take place on January 29th at the Scratch Lounge in Wappingers. Jen plans to attend. The next actual PETS event will take place in NJ at a date to be announced. Linda Greenblatt noted that there will be a planning meeting for the Rotary Youth Leadership Academy on February 8 at Mount St. Mary's in Newburgh. She also noted that the process of identifying youth for the program has been initiated. The Mid Hudson News carried an article on the Academy for District 7210 very recently. Jen Van Voorhis provided a follow up the activities of Red Hook Together's discussion on human rights in Red Hook. She applauded the leadership of Erin Cannan, Director of the Center for Civic Engagement at Bard. In addition, she noted that the Dutchess County Commission on Human Rights is documenting particular incidents in which human rights have been abrogated. Dawn Jardine, of the Red Hook Library, has initiated a number of Spanish language activities at the library in order to encourage Spanish speakers to attend library events and use their facilities. Red Hook together will meet next at noon at the Library on February 6, 2020.

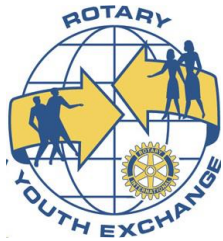

Rob polled the club leadership for a date for a Board meeting. It was agreed that the best date for most was after next week's meeting on January 21 at 8:30 am.

The upcoming speaker hosts are listed below on the calendar. Substitutions for currently schedule speaker hosts are welcome. Send your suggestion to Susan Ezrati or Rob Latimer. Please note that Jonah has announced his guest speaker for January 21, 2020 is Christina Boryk, Executive Director of Rebuilding Together, an organization that fixes homes of the needy and the elderly. She has been a guest on Radio Rotary and promises to bring us some very interesting news.

Speaker for Jan 28 to be determined. Speaker on February 4, 2020 will be Raymond Iaia Esq. is a Senior Associate with McCabe Coleman Ventosa & Patterson PLLC Attorneys at Law. Dave Wright will be the speaker host on Feb. 18, 2020. February 11, 2020 is a business meeting.

Happy $ collected - . To be announced.

Next Club meeting: January 21, 2020 at 7:30 am at Cancun's in Red Hook, NY. Jonah's guest speaker will be Christina Boryk, Executive Director of Rebuilding Together, an organization that fixes homes of the needy and the elderly.
