Weekly Newsletter – November 15

Attendance – Christine Chale, Agatha Bacelar, Carl Dowden, Susan Ezrati, Linda Greenblatt, Becca Kent, Rob Latimer, Michael Shafer, Susan Simon, Jonah Triebwasser, Jennifer Van Voorhis, David Wright.

Coat Drive – Our coat drive continued this past weekend at the No-Cost Market at the Red Hook Community Center. We distributed more than 100 coats there for a total of more than 160 coats for the entire project.

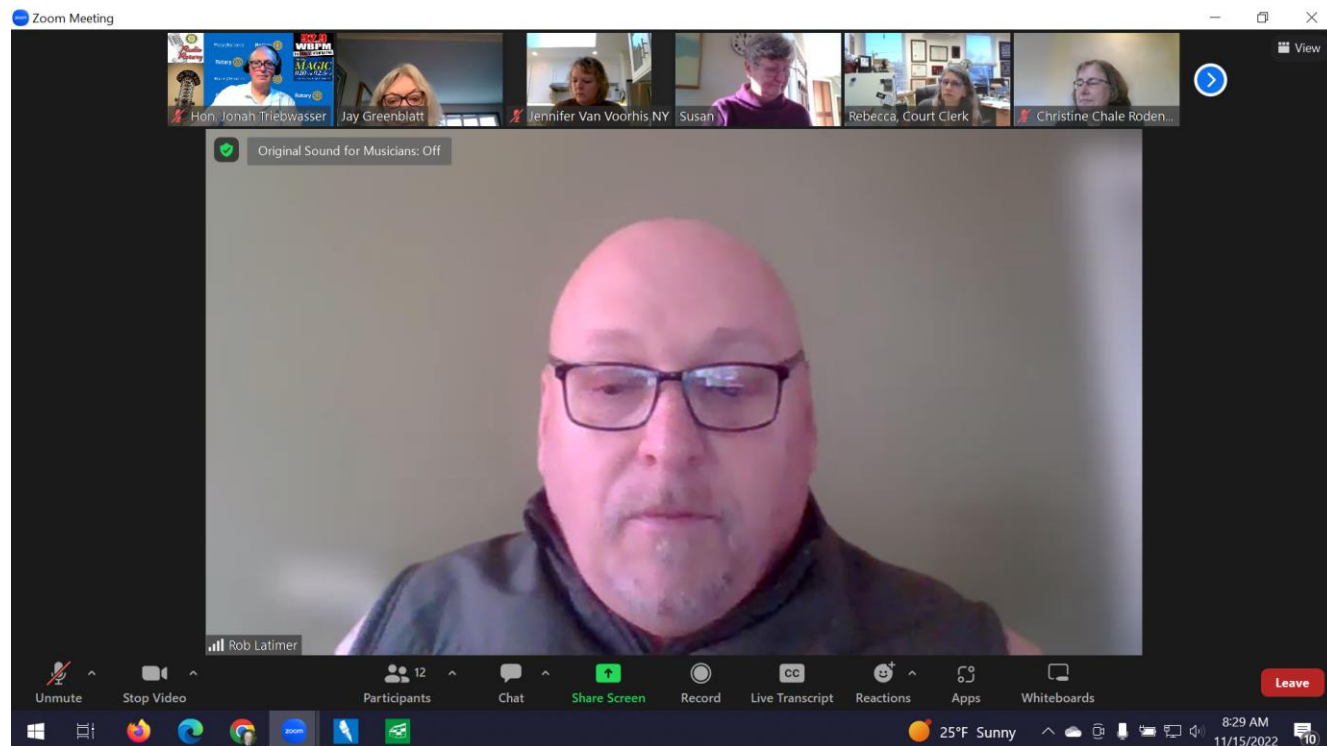

District Service Symposium – Chris Chale reported that we now have a little free library stand that was constructed during the District Service Symposium. We will look for a location to install and ask the Interact Club to decorate it.

Friends of Guirgho made a presentation at the symposium. This organization recognizes that every child is born with infinite potential, but this potential is limited by opportunity and resources. Children being educated in rural village schools in Africa today are often far behind their counterparts in the developed world. Their fertile young imaginations are very quickly stifled by the realities of their circumstances. For the most part, these children will have no exposure to technologies like computers, or any opportunities to experience multimedia learning, either at school or at home. In the past the logistical hurdles necessary to close this gap, including access to electrical power, clean drinking water, and even basic sanitation made the task virtually impossible. The availability of technology and reliable, cost-effective renewable energy sources today has made these obstacles surmountable. Today, with the right technology, a learner should no longer have to leave her community to have access to a world-class education—it can be brought to any community anywhere in the world. Friends of Guirgho is committed to assisting rural schools by providing the infrastructure and technologies needed to expand their educational options.

Rotary

RadioRotary is an historic venture made possible by the Rotary clubs of the Hudson Valley.

Its weekly goal is to share the service and humanitarian efforts of Rotarians and others who share ways to improve our quality of life.

In lively 30 minute interviews, Rotary's professional radio hosts, Rotarians Sarah O'Connell Claitor and Jonah Triebwasser, talk to people who work at the grassroots level on programs that address such important Rotary issues as poverty, illiteracy, hunger disease, and the environment.

Co-hosts Jonah Triebwasser
and Sarah O'Connell Claitor
(bios on www.radiorotary.org)

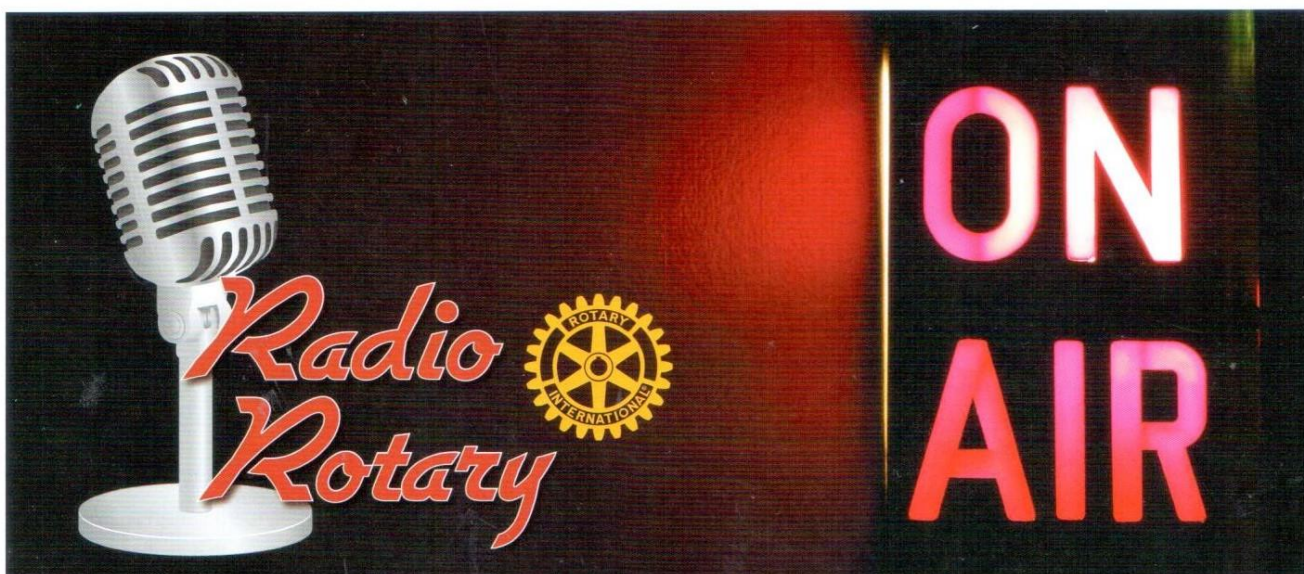

Guests' stories about their humanitarian work are uplifting, showing how caring people strive to do good in the world.

Woven throughout the program are the passion and spirit of Rotary, whose optimism is reflected in the belief that our public-spirited endeavors will build goodwill and better friendships in our community, our nation, and our world, thus contributing to peace and understanding.

RadioRotary is one important way for the public to gather information helpful to their daily lives. We also hope that the program will encourage others to consider joining Rotary's efforts to make our world a better place.

Rotary

Radio Rotary is an independent nonprofit organization created by Rotarians from the Hudson Valley and supported by many Rotary clubs as well as by commercial sponsors. Now in its 14th year, Radio Rotary has won two New York State Broadcasting Awards for its weekly half-hour radio program that promotes the goals of Rotary International and The Rotary Foundation: "Service above Self" and "Doing Good in the World."

Guests interviewed by seasoned co-hosts, Sarah O'Connell Claitor and Jonah Triebwasser, typically work for programs that address such issues as poverty, education, health, the environment, addiction, and housing. Programs range from covering organizations and events in the Hudson Valley, including some sponsored by Rotary clubs, to the activities of national and international organizations. Woven throughout is the spirit of Rotary, the belief that humanitarian endeavors that build goodwill and better friendships in our community, nation, and world contribute to peace and understanding.
