Breaking News

Well your friendly newsletter editor has screwed up. No the first time, and likely no the last. I neglected to include a profile of our newest applicant to membership of Point West Rotary which as you know needs to be posted prior to reading in. So I bring you that in a Supplement today. Reach out to the new members and say hi. We would love to have people invite people to be new members as well. Our latest new members each were strangers to Rotary and Point West before they ran onto one of our fantastic members. Spread the Point West news and bring someone to breakfast. .

Bowling Bash Bumped

Our planned bowling extravaganza for next Saturday sadly is cancelled do to inadequate sign ups. Do keep those bowling skills sharpened though as we hope to reschedule this annual fun PWR event in the future when it might work better for everyone's schedule.

If you have already paid to participate, please know that you will receive a check soon for the amount paid.

Thank you to those that signed up. All gutter balls until next time!

New Member Profile

Kathi Berger

A gym meeting with Beth Schatz introduced PWR's newest applicant for membership to the TBDRCOTP. Kathi Berger grew up in Marysville and graduated from CSU Sacramento. She lives in Carmichael and is married to Jeff Frazier. Kathi works for the Franchise Tax Board as an IT Specialist, working in the field of Tax Information Security. She has many interests and talents, including writing, painting and physical fitness. Kathi got excited about PWR starting with the first meeting she attended due to the friendly vibe in the room, and the warmth she sensed from each member she met. She is looking forward to the variety of opportunities offered by PWR to serve the community. Her sponsors are Beth Schatz and Dominic Porrino. Watch out for her at our meetings and introduce yourself.

Point West Goofiness

Keeping in line with the theme of fun and frivolity, our own President John Price has submitted some original pictures for the Wacky Captions. They are presented here. You can still participate in the Newsletter contest for this month.
